Township supervisor pay slashed

Other township officials get increases in '97

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch township official salaries took quite a turn after trustees debated the proper compensation for each position.

Cut was the salary of the township supervisor. Currently the pay is $51,070 and it was dropped to $44,000 for 1997. No reason was given for the lower salary.

Trustee Claudette Skvarce offered the salary be docked to $44,000 a year with 3.5-percent year raises in 1998, 1999 and 2000. Trustees unanimously approved the request.

Taking considerably more time was discussion on the other elected offices. Trustees, clerk, assessor and highway commissioner all will receive raises.

Skvarce argued for a base pay per meeting. She said a fee of $175 per meeting was appropriate. She also suggested trustees only be given two excused absences per year and not get paid if they miss a third meeting.

"We should only be allowed to miss two meetings. If we miss more we are not doing our duty," she said.

Trustee Tim Osmond suggested a flat fee of $2,498 a year with a 2.5 percent increase. "We don't know how many meetings a year we might have."

Township Supervisor Jim Fields noted the state may delegate welfare responsibilities on the townships and that may require additional meetings.

Trustees Richard Kufalk, Judith Davis and Skvarce agreed to the $175 per meeting rate and the two-meeting rule. Fields and Osmond voted against the plan.

Meeting to yield sewer answers

Unincorporated Antioch Township residents will be able hear the results of a long-awaited sewer study from Lake County.

Martin Galantha, Lake County public works director and Robert Devery of Devery Engineering will present their findings at the United Homeowners of Unincorporated Antioch (UHUA) meeting Oct. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

The county commissioned a sewer feasibility study for the unincorporated areas. Devery was the firm which completed the work.

"The study is done and we encourage everyone to come to the meeting to hear first hand about costs, feasibility and other issues," said Carol Jonites, UHUA chairwoman. "We have waited over two years for this and I'm sure everyone has all kinds of questions."

It's a hard way of life for Jacek Wierczhowiecki but he is strong and is surviving one year after he took a paralyzing fall from a horse.

Jacek is a three-time Polish champion, three-time Polish Vice Champion and former member of the Polish Olympic equestrian team. He went on to coach the Olympic team for seven years before he came to the United States nine years ago to train riders in three-day eventing.

Since his fall he has gone on maintaining his life as normally as possible. He continues to coach and judge competitions all over the country and world. He drives an adapted van and coaches from his

Linda and Mike Kelly, owners of Kelly Stable in Wadsworth, are friends of Jacek and his family. They are sponsoring a fund-raiser for him Oct. 19 to offset his costly medical expenses. His insurance is dropping him due to his move out of state from Wisconsin to Antioch where he bought a home adapted to his needs, according to Linda.

Claude LeMere, community development director, gets into the scary mode for Antioch's Halloween Howl, Oct. 25 and 26.

Howl to be bigger than ever

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

It's back and it's going to be scarier than ever.

Antioch's Halloween Howl is coming Oct. 25 and 26 and promises to be even bigger and better. There will be plenty of spooks, entertainment and family fun planned in this free event.

"We had some complaints from parents and grandparents who took children to haunted houses and the children were having nightmares," said Claude LeMere, downtown development director. "We wanted something that was fun for all folks."

Thus Halloween Howl was created three years ago. About 5,000 people a day attend the event, according to LeMere.

Included in the fun is the Happy Ghosts and Happy

Haunted Graveyard. These are the children's areas designed for fun and not for fear. The Smiling Spirits at Ben Franklin store offers a moonwalk as well.

"The Village of Antioch welcomes everyone to come and have a good time with us," LeMere said.

The event is designed to promote a safe and family oriented Halloween.

'We wanted something that was fun for all folks.'

— Claude LeMere

For people 13 and over there is the "Tunnel of Terror" sponsored by the Antioch Jaycees. The tunnel will have a series of spooky areas. You must enter through the "Tunnel of Snakes" and exit through the "Tunnel of Rats."

All of the festivities will be in the downtown area. Parking is readily available if you follow the public parking signs.

Other activities include carriage rides at the Olde Tyme Deli and Antioch True Value, face painting at the Crafters Gallery, Dracula's Cave featuring PM&L players, and the Witches Kitchen at BJ's and the Pumpkin carving and decorating contest is at Four Squires.

Ending the festivities will be a bonfire with a professional storyteller at 6 p.m.

Don't worry about getting lost, there will be plenty of flyers to point you in the right direction. Also a tape will play giving instructions on where events are.

In addition characters such as the gorilla and the wizard will be walking the streets welcoming visitors.

Other sponsors participating include Lakeland Newspapers, Antioch Chamber of Commerce Biller Press and The Advertiser.

St. Ignatius dinner ahead

St. Ignatius of Antioch Episcopal Church is holding its 43rd annual turkey dinner and bake sale Saturday, Oct. 19, from 4-8 p.m. at St. Peter's Social Center. The evening will include all-you-can-eat dinner (dine in or take out), music, and drawings. Tickets are available at the door and cost $9 for adults and $4 for children.

Still room in fall programs

Antioch Park and Recreation Department will be offering the following classes from Oct. 22-Dec. 17 (no class on 11/26). The registration period has been extended to allow for more participation. Classes include ballet for beginners, ballet for ballerinas, tiny twirlers, baton and pom poms, hip hop teddy bears, hip hop hippos, junior jazz and pom poms, pom poms for pumpkins, dancing dolls, beginning jazz and poms.

Footlights on the horizon

St. Peter in Antioch is hosting its Footlights extravaganza on Nov. 8, Nov. 9, Nov. 15 and 16. It includes 10 rooms of dancing, singing, entertainment, and casino gambling. New this year will be a comedy club and New Orleans style riverboat room featuring continuous "Dixie style" entertainment. The Grease Band, PM&L and the Lips Inc. crew are just a few of the entertainers. A full casino includes blackjack, craps and poker will be ready. Tickets at $10 each for the Friday evenings and $12 each for the Saturday evenings. For advance tickets or for more information call 395-0274.

Residents invited to Metra open house

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch trustees encourage residents and visitors to attend an open house celebrating the completion of the Metra station.

The open house is planned for Oct. 20 from 1-3 p.m. on Orchard Street just east of Main Street. The station is located on Orchard Street just east of Main Street.

Residents can view the just completed station interior. Antioch Junior Women's Club will provide the refreshments.

Residents can view the just completed station interior. Antioch Junior Women's Club will provide the refreshments.

"We welcome everyone to come out and tour the station and enjoy refreshments," Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said.

The exterior and parking area for the 20-by-50-foot structure was completed in August in time for the opening of the North Central Service Line.

"We are pleased the contractor was able to meet or request to complete the interior of the station by October," Shineflug.

The station will eventually have benches. However, since the benches are specially manufactured, they haven't arrived yet.

The station will be open during the hours the trains arrive and depart. Officials are unsure if they will keep it open during the day when the trains aren't there, according to Shineflug.

The Junior Women's Club will provide baked goods and beverages for guests.

The commuter line extends from Antioch to Union Station in Chicago. One of the stops includes a transfer station to O'Hare International Airport.

Board approves first phase of Tiffany Farms

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

A large subdivision will break ground very soon.

Antioch trustees approved the first phase of Tiffany Farms, a proposed 414-unit subdivision on 169-acre tract bordered by North Avenue to the north, Tiffany road to the east and Felter's subdivision to the west.

Antioch Village Board had the first reading of the first phase of the subdivision.

Prices for the homes will range from $125,000 to $250,000.

The student population projections range from 356 students to 900 students. The developer, United Homes, has agreed to pay $1.3 million in impact fees to Antioch Elementary District and Antioch Community High School District.

The number of units matches the village's comprehensive plan for the area. The developer could have sought apartment zoning as well and pushed the unit count to 530.

The mixed single and multi-family development was recommended by the Plan Commission Sept. 11.

The first phase has 134 units located on the east side of the parcel.

United Homes has met all conditions set forth by the village, village engineer and village planner.

The developer has agreed to fund a traffic study for the site with an eye towards eventually getting a traffic signal at the troubled intersection.

United Homes officials will also meet with Felter's subdivision officers on ways they can buffer the two subdivisions.

Oak Knolls to receive sewer rehab work

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch trustees agreed to a unique approach to handling a drainage problem.

Instead of replacing aging sewer lines in Oak Knolls subdivision, trustees decided to rehab the existing lines with new material.

"They say it will last longer than a new line," said Trustee Mabel Lou Weber.

The existing lines date back to the early 1950s, according to Village Administrator Tim Wells.

Wells said the project will be done in phases. Each year the village plans to repair about 2,000 feet of line.

The village will hold the bid opening for the project on Halloween.

Once the bids are open, the project will come back for authorization to the board.

In other business, village staff is reviewing safety issues such as a possible crosswalk at the intersection of North Avenue and Route 83. Other areas include Route 83 and Orchard Street and the area of St. Peter's Church.

Wells anticipates staff will report on their findings at the Oct. 21 meeting.

The village is still interested in hearing from residents regarding what sidewalks need to be repaired and where sidewalks would make sense.

School Briefs

Dist. 34 offers preschool screening

Antioch Elementary District will be offering preschool screening to all District 34 3 and 4-year-old children Oct. 28, 29 and 30. The purpose of the screening is to identify any preschooler in the district who may have any of the following: speech and language difficulties, motor coordination difficulties and developmental delays. The screening will be at Antioch Elementary School and Oakland School. Call the school in your area. Jim Lienhart at Oakland (395-1730) and Mary Key McNiell at Antioch (395-1730) will answer any question you may have.

Emmons Band Parent Night

Beginning Band Parent Night at Emmons School is planned Wednesday, Oct. 23 at 7 p.m. This meeting is for all students who wish to be the band and their parents. Students from fifth-eighth grade are eligible to join.

COLD-WEATHER RUNNING

Many dedicated runners won't skip the daily run in winter, even though there is increased risk of injury.

Slipping on ice and falling are the most common accidents. But other injuries occur when runners change the pattern of foot movement to guard against slipping. Muscle strains often result when runners land the whole foot on slippery surfaces instead of maintaining the usual heel-to-toe rolling action.

To avoid injuries and strains in winter running:

- Stretch muscles gently before and after running.
- Run slowly for the first 10 or 15 minutes.
- Shorten the stride in slippery areas, but maintain heel-to-toe action.
- If the weather or ground conditions are too severe, skip running for a day. Your physical well-being won't be affected, and it might save you from injury that could take months for recovery.

Firefighters teach students safety

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch Firefighters visited all area elementary schools to help reinforce good fire prevention techniques while showing students the tools.

At Emmons School, Firefighters Bill Kearney and Richard Frankson stressed the difference between toys and tools. They emphasized children shouldn't be playing with tools such as matches or calling 911.

"You never play with matches," Frankson said. "A little fire can turn into a big fire very quickly."

He told students a fire in a garbage can could destroy their lunch room in a matter of 7 minutes.

Frankson reminded students once they see a fire they should leave their house immediately.

"When you leave the house you don't come back no matter what," Frankson said. "Your parents can replace the tables and the furniture. They can't go to a store and replace you if you're lost," he said.

He stressed all families should have an emergency plan and have a place to meet once they leave the house.

Frankson warned children not to call 911 for a joke. He said the number and parents name will automatically be registered and an officer will be dispatched. A phone will be blocked and the parents will be notified.

Also emphasized was stop, drop and roll in case fire gets on clothing.

"Think of fire as something that can eat you. If you don't let it breathe you will kill it," he said.

Firefighters were out to commemorate Fire Prevention Week. The week was started after 25 students were killed in 1956 at Our Lady of Angels School in Chicago when the students and teachers didn't leave the building after a fire started.

Sewer

Jonites is pleased the study the organization has been seeking is finally finished.

She was surprised to learn all areas can be serviced by sewer. Originally many thought sewer wouldn't be feasible in some areas.

What happens from this report depends largely on how it is received by the public.

If there is sufficient support, then residents could eventually seek a special service area for a sewer.

However, much discussion remains.

The county must approve any plan and a majority of residents also would have to agree.

This meeting is for informational purposes only. The meeting will be held at St Stephen's Lutheran Church on Route 59 just south of Route 173.

Woodland school site shut down after accident

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

How long the new Woodland Middle School will be delayed is the next issue to be addressed by school officials and contractors after part of a wall collapsed, injuring one worker.

A 49-year old pipe fitter from Antioch, Anita Cratz, was treated for injuries and released from St. Therese Medical Center following the Oct. 11 incident. The accident took place around 2:15 p.m. and no other workers were involved.

"We got a call for a construction accident with possible entrapment. The company did an excellent job accounting for all its people. One female may have suffered a fractured arm or leg," Gurnee Fire Chief Tim McGrath said.

ANTIOCH Arrested for possession

Andrea Willman, 21, 1109 Byshop, Antioch, on Oct. 11, was arrested for possession of marijuana. She was arrested after someone turned her purse into police. Police had her empty the contents to make sure everything was there. Police saw a smoking pipe with what is believed to be the residue of marijuana and arrested her.

Arrested for driving offenses

Richard Manning, 43 42335, Elm, Antioch, on Oct. 14, was arrested for driving with a revoked license and was wanted on a Lake County warrant. He was stopped for crossing the center line. He was found to have a revoked license and was wanted on warrant for driving under the influence.

Brian Susecki, 24, 440 Linden, Antioch, on Oct. 14, was arrested on a driving under the influence warrant. He was stopped because the officer had prior knowledge of the warrant.

Anthony Marva, 21, of Lindenhurst, on Oct. 10, was arrested for driving with a suspended license and he was wanted on an aggravated battery warrant. He was stopped for having expired plates and was found to have a suspended license and a warrant.

is the general manager for the middle school. The school was on schedule to be ready for the 1997-98 school year.

"We feel fortunate only one worker was injured," MaryJo Przygoda, school district spokesperson, said.

McGrath said it was too early to speculate as to cause of the accident. Neighbors said they did not hear anything unusual from the industrial arts area where the accident occurred.

There was no extrication needed for the victim. Utilities were shut off and the Almond and Washington St. site was turned over to the company three hours later.

"The Occupational Health and Safety Admin. was notified and that was prudent, even though they did not have to be. They will critique the operation for any type of violations," McGrath said.

The section of wall which fell measured 250 x 100 feet and the area must be replaced. An investigation continues.

The injured pipe fitter worked for F. E. Moran Company, a subcontractor. "Her prognosis is good," McGrath said.

School officials said at the last board of education meeting that all major deadlines were met. The capacity for the voter approved $38 million school is 2,000 students, grades six, seven and eight. The two-story building will include classrooms, a library, team learning, a gymnasium, the latest in technology and some courtyards.

A Gurnee architect said in such cases as the wall collapsing that the engineers from the architectural firm and the general contractor will investigate. It is not likely that public funds will have to be paid for the investigation, he said.

Cleaning serves no purpose unless the male species does it

Wives, we have all been there. We have all been at the point in our lives where we have worked all day doing those seasonal chores that absolutely nobody notices—especially the other gender in our lives.

Take the refrigerator instance. We can pull it out from the wall (I have learned from personal experiences though that before actually moving this appliance from its resting spot, make sure there are no uncovered glasses of grape juice perched on one of its shelves). Anyway, we pull it out, wash the floor underneath, vacuum the coils, scrub the outside, pull out the drawers and remove all those stalks of wilted celery, dried up carrots, flecks of, goodness knows what laying in the fruit bins and vegetable crispers, wipe down all the shelves, toss the empty jars of pickles, expired salad dressing and shrimp sauce, spit shine the chrome handle and gently move the appliance back into position before anyone witnesses our days labor.

Just about the time you step back to admire your handy work, in walks the man of the house, who nudges you out of the way, grabs the shiny chrome handle with his grimy hands, flings open the door to reveal sheer sparkle, and his only comment is: "When are you going to go grocery shopping?" I can see why the divorce rate is so high in this country.

Shall we move to the bathroom. Besides our weekly removal of soap scum, mustache hairs and toe nail clippings, we occasionally do the major over-haul thing. We wash the shower curtain, polish the mirrors and windows until they are streak-free, launder the throw rugs and toilet lid cover, hose out the waste basket, sanitize the toilet with bleach, even go so far as to ensure the toilet paper is hanging under instead of over. Then "they" walk in and say something as observant as: "Whose been using my razors?"

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Has any female out there ever been complimented on the fine job she did of laundering the mattress pad and pillow sacks, turning over the king size mattress not only sideways, but head over foot, all by herself? These are the kind of unworthy chores that go totally unnoticed by everyone in the household but mom. But let a certain someone in the household go out and do something menial like sweep off the driveway and you would have thought he invented sliced bread. Or heaven forbid he actually tackle the task of cleaning out the dishwasher. Now even though he places 85 percent of all the clean dishes on the counter because he has no clue where most of the things go, he is so proud because: hey the dishwasher now stands empty.

You can bet that no matter how many chores you have completed that very same century, none of them were as hard, or intense as his task. You can be darn sure six weeks from next Tuesday when you ask him to help with some household chore, you will quickly be reminded of the afore mentioned episode with that exasperated look on their smug little faces.

I am not saying all you guys out there are lax when it comes to the Household Cleaning 101 dept., but most of you are a bit ignorant when it comes to the preparation that takes place before and after a meal is placed on a table, clean clothes suddenly appearing again in the closet, the never-ending supply of washed glasses in the cabinet. Men and women have such different ideas as to how "clean" clean really is. The other gender feel they have succeeded in cleaning up the kitchen after dinner when they have removed all the dishes and dinner paraphernalia from the table and put them on the counter.

They think they have sufficiently cleaned up the bathroom after a morning getting primped routine by throwing all the towels in a wad next to the bath tub, hotel maid style. They think the living room is straightened up when all the toys, books and throw pillows are tossed into the toy box, never mind the lid being able to shut. Now I realize that there are just some tasks that men do not comprehend, whether by choice or ignorance and yes females are guilty of some of their own ignorances.

I know myself, I could never fix a car engine. But you can also be darn straight that I ever once tackled that job and even mildly succeeded—such as opening the hood without consulting the owners manual—I would be the first one to hook my thumbs in my pants pocket, puff out my chest, saunter into the house, grab a cold beer out of the fridge, put my feet up on the coffee table, reach for the cordless phone and call every girl friend I ever went to school with.

And, So goes another "Jingle from Pringle"—don't forget to call 395-6364.

CLC classes explore politics, upcoming election

The College of Lake County's "Discovery" program for adults 50 and older will offer two classes exploring political conventions and the 1996 presidential election. Both classes will be held in the lower level training room of Marshall Field's at the Vernon Hills Hawthorn shopping center.

A two-week class on "Pursuing the Presidency" will meet from 1:15 to 2:45 p.m. on Oct. 15 and 22. Among the topics to be discussed are profiles of the presidential candidates and how they address issues and problems, media coverage and campaign strategies. The cost is $10.

For information and registration, Call CLC's Southlake Educational Center at 433-7884.

Baker takes three in national race

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Racing boats is nothing unfamiliar to Jeff Baker.

The Antioch resident took 3rd place in a national competition held in Kankakee, on the river last month, but he's been racing since he was just a kid.

His dad, Ron Baker of Baker's Marine Support located on Bluff Lake said, the American Power Boat Association (APBA) which sponsored the race is "the largest boat racing organization in the world."

There are 10 classes in the APBA competitions and a purse of about $60,000 is offered.

Ron himself has been racing water craft on the Kankakee River since the late 1950s. For the past decade, the APBA has been holding the races on the same river, he explained.

Jeff said modifying his 13-foot Rapidcraft Cyclone boat wasn't quite a piece of cake. The Evinrude motor powered craft which was hauled to the event on a Trailmaster trailer took months to complete.

When you count the labor and the trailering, cost to make the boat racing ready was about $12,000. "You never break even," he explained.

Some of the overhauls done to the boat to get it ready for racing included adjusting the motor height, using different propellers, and distributing some weight around the vessel.

Baker's Marine Support actually had three boats in the races the day Jeff took home his plaque and about $300 cash. His brother Ronald was also earned fifth place, and a friend raced another of the Baker's boats.

Jeff, 34, said when he was 9-years-old his dad encouraged him to learn how to operate a boat. Then at the age of 13 he started racing them.

After the last race, Jeff said he was exhilarated, yet he felt somewhat disappointed too. "There were two places ahead of me," noted the competitive racer. "There's always next year," he added.

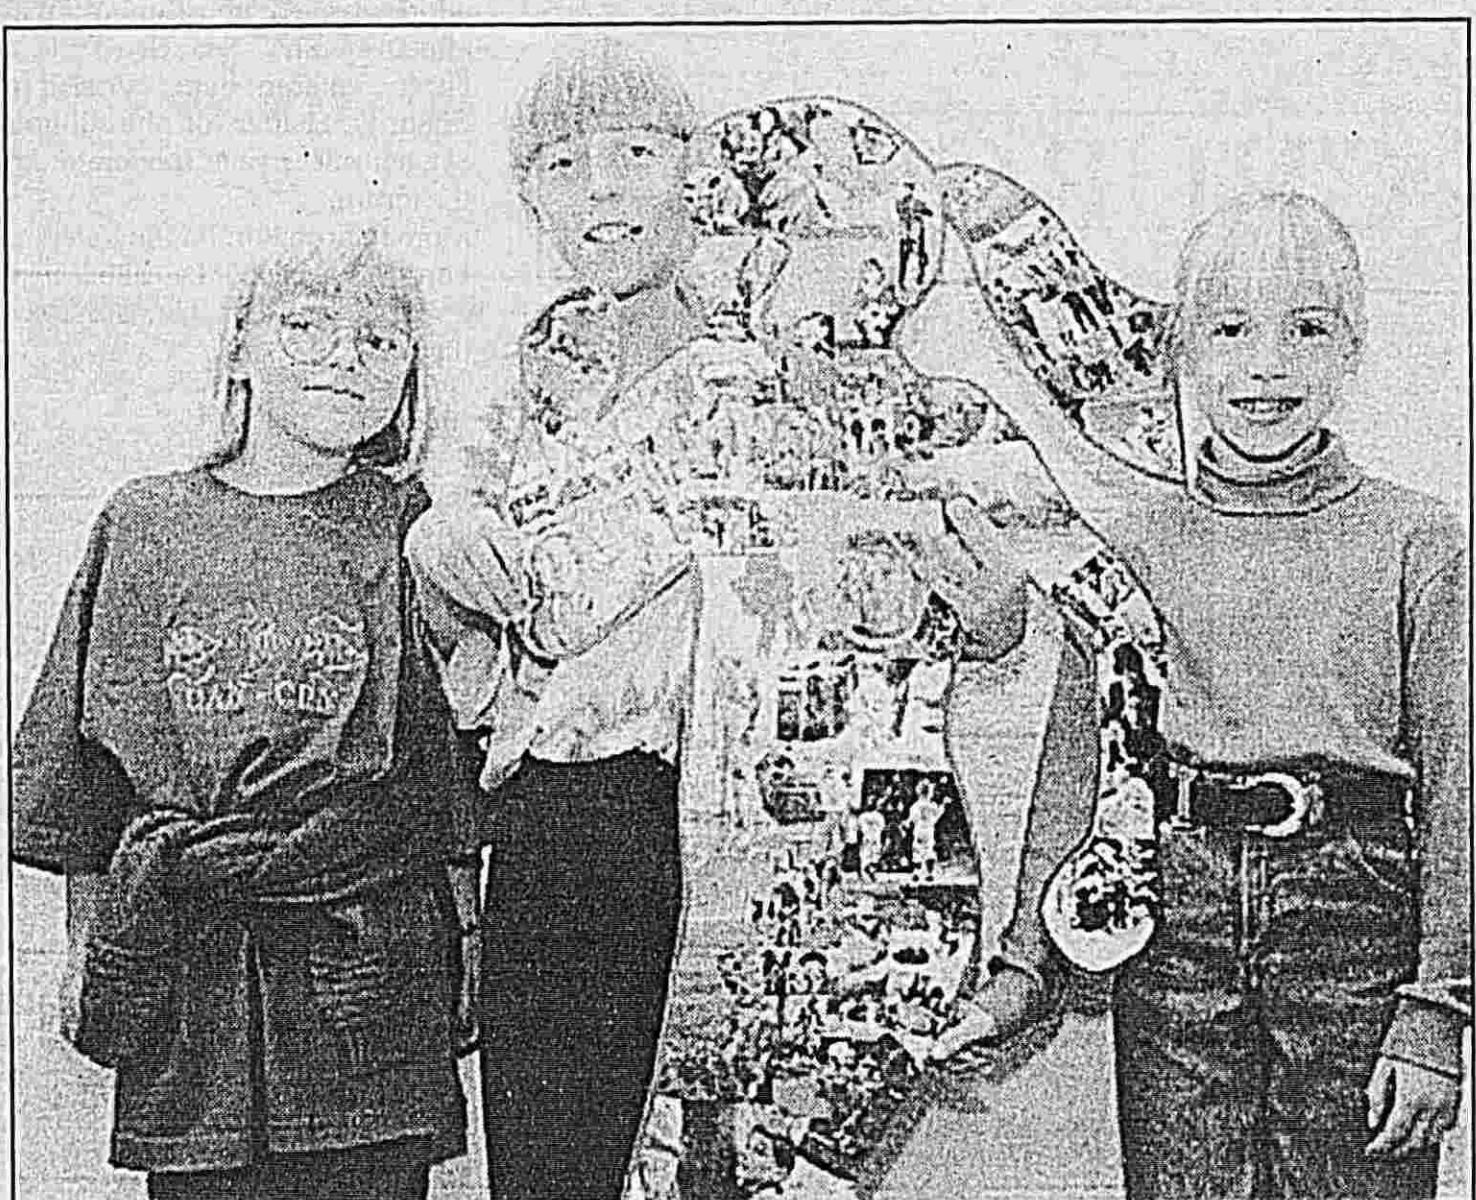

Missing second place came three-tenths of a second too late, Jeff said. There were two heats (races) back to back. A point total for judging was determined by combining the scores from both races.

Jeff said he will be working on another racing boat this winter.

Volunteers sought for road cleaning

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Antioch area residents are doing a great job in keeping their roads clean.

Residents and community organizations have combined to "Adopt A Highway" or a stretch of road and ensure that it is cleaned on a regular basis. So far, nine groups have come forward to clean up county roads, according to Antioch County Board Representative Judy Martini who has actively recruited groups for the program and is seeking greater involvement.

"It is very important to me that the first impression drivers get of Antioch is what a clean town it is," Martini said. "There is so much beauty in Antioch because of our natural resources that it is my goal to have 100 percent of our roads covered by these types of programs."

Lake County Department of Transportation will supply the groups with garbage bags and bright colored vests. The county also puts up signs with the group's name to recognize they have volunteered to adopt that section.

Martini is now looking for groups and businesses to volunteer for the state's "Adopt A Highway Program." There are four sections of state roads that need to be adopted in the Antioch area.

These sections include Route 173 east to Deep Lake Road, Route 59 south to Beach Grove Road and all of Route 45.

Groups and businesses interested in adopting a state highway should contact Martini at 838-2907, who will assist them in getting applications from the state.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

DEADLINE : 2 P.M. THURSDAY

TIEBREAKER 1 Total points scored (both teams) in RAMS game.

TIEBREAKER 2 Total offensive yards
(both teams) in this game.

POWER POINTS OFFICIAL RULES

- Object of the game is to amass as many of the 136 possible points as you can. Simply review the week's schedule of games, listed on entry form, and decide which game you are surest of picking a winner in. Write the name of your projected winner on the 16-point line. If half team wins its game that week, you will 16 points. Write the name of your second-surest winner on the 15-point line, and so on down to the 1-point line, which game you figure to be a toss-up. Next, fill in Tiebreaker 1, the total points scored by both teams in the week's Bears, Rams or Illinois game. If this step fails to produce a winner, the judges will apply Tiebreaker 2, total offensive yardage from scrimmage in this game. If a winner still doesn't emerge, a drawing will be held among those contestants still tied. Decisions of the judges are final. The weekly winner of the contest will receive $1,000.
- Any entry form that does not contain a legible name, address, etc., will be disqualified.

3. Entries that fail to forecast a winner from each and every game will be disqualified, as will entries that fail to distinguish between the Jets and Giants of New York and Pitt and Pittsburgh.

4. No points are awarded on tie games or in case any game is not played for any reason during its scheduled week.

5. Entering POWER POINTS constitutes permission by contestant for his or her name and photograph to be used for news and reasonable promotional purposes at no charge.

6. Employees of this newspaper and their immediate families are ineligible to participate.

7. Any inquiry about or protest of weekly results must be made by noon on the Friday following the announcement of winners.

8. No purchase necessary. Facsimile game entry forms will be accepted. Enter contest by dropping entry form into POWER POINTS container at participating co-sponsors.

9. Weekly deadline for entry will be 2 p.m. Thursdays except when noted otherwise on weekly entry form.

10. Neither this newspaper nor any co-sponsor will be responsible for illegible entry forms or those lost, stolen or damaged in any way.

11. Limit: one entry per person per week. Each entry must represent the original work of one entrant; "group" entries, "systems" or other attempts to enter multiple entries will be disqualified. Filling out extra forms and putting your friends' and relatives' names on them violates this rule. Any such entries are destroyed prior to grading.

12. Contestants must have reached the age of eight (8) years by the Sunday of any week's play.

Fund Raiser

the fund-raiser and have had an incredible outpouring of donations.

Among some of the notable items are a one-month old pot bellied pig who's "cute as can be" Linda said, gift certificates for several restaurants from the Rainforest Cafe to a restaurant at Hotel Nikko in Chicago, a western pony saddle, line dancing lessons, and a lawyer with a sense of humor donated a free will and a Dr.
Kevorkian gift certificate. There are also an abundance of horse-related auction items from horse massages to a weekend at a bed and breakfast complete with a stable for horses to come along.

"There's just been a really big involvement," Linda said. "The people around here are involved with horses and know who he is."

The fund-raiser will start at 3 p.m. on the 19th and will feature hayrides, pony rides music and the auction. To raise money, tickets are being sold for entry at $15 for adults and $6 for children. For those who purchased tickets ahead of time, a pig roast is included in the cost, but for those buying tickets at the gate the meal may or may not be included, depending on food availability.

Jacek said his accident was a freak thing. It happened while he was coaching a girl and he became afraid she would fall when the horse started acting up. He jumped it a few times and thought it was okay, he explained. When he decided to jump the horse one more time, it stopped at the last minute.

"I fell on my head. I didn't lose my consciousness, but I knew at once I was paralyzed because I couldn't move," Jacek explained.

Jacek came to the world of riding late, at the age of 20, while a college student studying animal husbandry in Poland.

"My roommate rode horses and he was well known and I asked him. So I did it and after I first rode I dropped my studies," he explained.

He finished school with a masters in horse breeding and a masters in physical education from the University of Poznan.

"I am still teaching but not riding," he said. "I hope there will come one day when I will ride again."

Jacek is optimistic saying the doctors don't give him much hope to walk, but through alternative medicine he is seeing some change. He goes for physical therapy twice a week and does his leg exercises.

The fall taken by actor
Christopher Reeve was similar to Jacek's, he explained, but he admires Reeve more because he doesn't have use of his hands.

He said he is lucky to live in the United States because he's been all over the world and only here could he have the life he now has. He is paralyzed from the upper chest down but "God left his hands," he said.

Jacek's good physical condition compared with many his age has helped him, he believes, and he seems to have a positive outlook.

"I have ups and downs, no one knows about it," he noted. "I'm starting to learn my new life."

"I'm a very happy man because everything could turn miserable in my situation," Jacek said. "I know 75 percent of people in my situation never go back to work. My work is special because it's outdoors."

Bear Waddle: Perseverance can pay off

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

The brisk fall evening was probably repeated often some 20 years ago in Cincinnati.

Tom Waddle would snare footballs from the lights shining from the automobile headlights, without concern due to the lack of light.

That kind of motivation and determination would lend the slenderly built wide receiver to a six-year NFL career. He won over the hearts of Bears fans by taking hits from linebackers who appeared twice his size and grabbing touch-down passes. He spoke of that motivation during the annual Keith Ryan Scholarship Foundation dinner last week.

"I went to the same high school (Moeller High) which produced Ken Griffey Jr. (Seattle Mariners' slugger) and Barry Larkin (Cincinnati Reds). Watching them in batting practice, I knew I was not going to make it in baseball. I knew I had the ability to catch things and I loved football. No one worked harder than me at Moeller or at Boston College," he said.

"The more you do to help the youngsters, the more you get out of it yourself," Waddle said.

After his NFL career ended due to a knee injury, he has served as owner of Advantage Golf of Illinois, a sports marketing firm. He is a member of the board of directors for Best Buddies, honorary member of Rainbows for All God's Children and honorary member of Mitchell Ross Children's Cancer Fund. The Hawthorn Woods resident is active in the Clearbrook Center for the mentally disabled, member of Athletes Against Drugs and served as a spokesman for United Way Agencies.

The former No. 87 turned sportscaster remembers well that fateful first Halas Hall meeting after making the drive from Cincinnati to Lake Forest.

"I remember almost hitting the Fridge (William Perry)'s truck. I walked into the room an unheralded player - there were 12 wide receivers, but it was a thrill to be in an hour and 15 minute meeting with Mike Ditka," Waddle said.

Antioch running game in full gear; set for MHS

Antioch High took a north-south strategy for its running game against North Chicago, knowing it could not barrel the bigger Warhawks over.

The strategy worked to perfection as the Sequoits had two runners top the 100-yard mark in a 40-6 win over North Chicago.

"We went more to a power game with Brandon (Polheber, 23 carries, 102 yards and two touchdowns). We ran at them," Antioch coach Del Pechauer said.

Dave Gooch complimented the rush with 76 yards to help his team improve to 4-3, 2-3 North Suburban Conference. The Sequoits, now over .500, have winning season and playoff hopes alive in the final two weeks.

Antioch had 305 yards rushing out of its wishbone. "The offensive line has done a real good job the last five games. After Stevenson and Libertyville, we have been competitive," Pechauer said.

"Brandon is small, 5-8 or 5-9 on his tip toes. He can have good moves in the open fields," Pechauer said.

Six North Chicago turnovers gave the Sequoits good field position time after time.

Antioch's Nick Kratchkow had a pair of interceptions. The defensive secondary is led by Pat Ewert, and Gooch at safety.

Mundelein comes into the contest 1-6 and winless in the NSC. The Mustangs do have the passing attack of Bill Zasidil, who had three TD passes in the first half last week, to his most frequent receiver, Thai Leav.

'Low road' works as late goal tops Antioch

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Simply put, low is good.

"It was about 10 yards out. I just did want it to go over the net. I wanted to keep it as low as I could. Low is good," Ryan Eng said.

Eng, a second-year varsity player, was the hero Monday as Lake Zurich topped Antioch 2-1. Eng's goal came on a pass from Matt Foster with 2:11 left. Foster had scored the game-tying goal in the first half.

"I did not even realize until we looked up. It was not a pretty game necessarily, but we found a way to win. It was a lot like last year," Bears coach Scott Steib said.

"I did not play that much last year. If the goals keep scoring, it will bring the momentum up for the team," Eng said.

Antioch scored first in the non-conference contest as Kevin Chudd beat Brad Cox 12 minutes into the game.

Cox and his defense turned away some point-blank Antioch shots and waited for the breakaway some 60 minutes after the first Lake Zurich score.

"This is great. After the first half of the season, we could not find a way to win. We were playing all right at times, but we could not find a way to win. There were times we slacked off. Everybody realized we had to start winning sometime and this was the time to start winning," Cox said.

Cox has changed his approach somewhat as his junior season evolved. "I have changed my approach coming out of the box - that was one of my weaknesses."

The win ups Lake Zurich to Antioch hosting volleyball regional Antioch Community High School will be hosting a girls volleyball regional.

The first round matches on Tuesday, Oct. 29 feature Round Lake vs. top seed Libertyville at 6:30 p.m. Followed by Antioch vs. Grayslake.

The regional title will be at 7 p.m. Oct. 31 matching Tuesday night winners.

5-13-1. Steib is quick to point out the losses came to no slouches Schaumburg, Conant, Evanston, Libertyville to name a few.

Antioch was denied a chance at .500 as it slipped to 6-8. "We can still finish at .500 if we win our next two games," ACHS coach Brad Wilson said.

"We play six teams in the top 10 in the area. One of my philosophies is to play the best teams because you improve when you play them. We could have played a few more wins. But our schedule is showing off now we are playing much better. Our defense is playing much better. The mental part of athletics is huge and we have done a nice job of turning it around in our heads," Steib said.

On Eng's contributions: "he comes off the bench for us and he is a sparkplug. Just energy wise. He picks everyone around him by hustling. Today he got a chance to finish and he did," Steib said.

Elsewhere, Stevenson seems

Antioch runners seek NSC conference title

A friendly course one might call a "home away from home" could spark the Antioch girls cross country team to a strong finish at the North Suburban Conference meet.

The Sequoits cannot win the overall title, but the meet title is well within their grasp, according to coach Dick Harland.

"We have a little revenge in mind. All of our runners like the course at Lakewood Forest Preserve," Harland said.

The Sequoits, 5-2 in NSC duals, are coming off a second-place showing at the Benet invitational in Lisle.

Liana Rothermel led the way with a fifth place finish and a time of 13 minutes, 46 seconds. Shayne Jacobsen was 11th in 14:13, Lauren Steinburg 15th in 14:20 and "Mouse" Barbic was 16th in 14:22. Cara Henneberry was 18th in 14:25. Antioch had 65 points in the five-team meet won by Benet with 23.

"The times are still coming down significantly. All ran better than last year and it is a 2.25 mile course," Harland said.

Mundelein will host the Oct. 19 conference meet. Stevenson and Libertyville figure to battle for the league crown with ACHS.

Murphy recovers, gains final spot in girls golf sectional

As Lisa Murphy completed the front nine of the IHSA Regional golf meet at Bonnie Brook Golf Course, her chances of making it to sectional were two-fold: dim and dimmer.

The senior had shot a 49. The leader of the Antioch High girls golf team did not mope, but regrouped and knocked off five strokes off her first nine score and qualified for the sectional round at Buffalo Grove.

"She had two bad holes on the front nine, an eight and a seven. She played more consistently on the back nine," Antioch coach

Steve Wapon said.

Murphy has "battled all year. She is an example of competitive spirit," Wapon said.

Murphy is the ranking senior in her class and is active with the student newspaper.

"Lisa is an all-around student. She is always there for the younger players," Wapon said.

Those included freshman Sarah Groh, who carded a 107, 10 shots behind Murphy.

Sarah Rockow had a 102, Angie Pederson a 118 and Veronica Pazanin a 120.

He was cut the first two training camps but placed on the developmental squad. The third time proved to be the charm for the wide receiver.

For his career, he caught 175 passes for 2,000 yards and 10 touchdowns. He was known as the "go-to" guy on third downs. He termed the former Bears coach Ditka as "the ultimate employer. He demands loyalty from players - and he is a loyal guy. He is now enjoying the fruits of his labor," he said.

Asked if Ditka would make a good coach today, he said the game has changed much with free agency and that would be a negative for "Iron Mike".

He said the Bears should upgrade the conditions of Soldier Field, making it more fan friendly.

As for the current Bears and their 2-5 record, he said linebacker Bryan Cox should have been suspended for his gesture at an official. Cox, who made comments about teammates' "heart" after an earlier Bears loss, should "go to those people individually."

Jerel Thompson of Grayslake was the winner of the $1,000 Ryan Scholarship, given to a future College of Lake County student who will pursue a media related career. Ryan repeated on Lake County sports for 25 years before losing a 15-month battle to cancer in 1989.

Wauconda gained a 4-1 win over Marian Central. Wauconda stiffened in the sec-

Song's Martial Arts Institute

Master Nak Sung Song, Grand Master of Song's martial arts Institute is proud to announce the 22nd anniversary of serving Lake County.

the instructor for the Korean Police Force.

Master Song is a native of Seoul, South Korea, where in 1959 he began his studies of Tae Kwon do and Kung Fu. He was appointed by the Korean government to train the Republic Marines from 1971-1972, after which time he returned to the mountain school to continue his philosophical and martial arts training.

After completing the Technical Instructors course, he served as a martial arts instructor in the Korean Marine Corps. for three years. Following this he was appointed as Master Song has achieved the level of 7th degree black belt in Tae Kwon Do and Kung Fu. He is active in giving demonstrations and teaching self-defense classes to adults and children.

Song's Martial Arts Institutes are located in Mundelein, Antioch, Grayslake, and Gurnee. The institutes are in good standings with the World Tae Kwon Do Federation and the United States of America Tae Kwon Do Union, which is a member of the Olympic Committee. The institutes are also members of the Pan American Moo Duk Kwon Federation.

Master Song lives by the philosophies of Tae Kwon Do. His contribution to society is to rebuild, enhance, and strengthen each individual's character. His focus is to teach his students not merely the physical aspects of martial arts, but the philosophical, artistic, and cultural counterparts that, when used in combination, will allow oneself to receive the full benefits of martial arts.

Song's Martial Arts offers specialized classes in the following areas: Children's martial arts training; Children's after school program; Women's self-defense training; Senior citizens fitness programs; Adult martial arts training; Adult weight training program; Post partum fitness program.

Communities tie up dreams with a

It began simply, with school children tying red ribbons on trees and wearing red bows on their clothing. Now, entire communities are involved in Red Ribbon Week, an annual celebration that promotes healthy lifestyles. Inspired in 1985 as a tribute to the memory of Enrique Camarena, a drug enforcement agent killed in the line of duty, Red Ribbon Week is coordinated by the National Family Partnership. Officially it runs from Oct. 23 to 31, but many communities extend the activities.

Lake County has already hosted one event, a visit by John Lasne, a postal worker from Greenville, S.C., whose basis for "The Red Ribbon" story has been turned into a children's book.

Full of allegory, the book introduces readers to a mythical king and the problems he sees in his realm: many living in the land of plenty have nothing, and others are frightened. A weaver claims he can stop the sadness if everyone in the kingdom will hold onto a red ribbon that must not touch the ground. As the king inspects his subjects, he finds them working together to keep the ribbon up high, and solving the problems in the kingdom.

Officials at Manpower Temporary Services discovered Lasne was to be in the area and arranged for a presentation to their work force, said

by SUZIE REED

Manpower spokeswoman Diana Vickery. The program was extended to include customers, members of non-profit organizations and the general public.

In Lake County, the effort is spearheaded by Jennifer Johnson of In Touch, part of Lake County's health services. A rally at the courthouse kicks off the week at noon Oct. 23. The "One Person Can Make a Difference Award" has honored those from the fields of education, social services and law enforcement for going "above and beyond the call of duty" in the fight against drug abuse, she said.

"We recognize different county-wide initiatives," she said. All babies born during the last week in October receive a T-shirt that proclaims them "Born to be Drug Free." Brochures on parenting and the National Family Partnership are also sent home with the newborns.

Johnson conducts training sessions and helps schools prepare for Red Ribbon Week so students will get the most out of it. The celebration grows each year in different communities as ideas and inspirations are shared.

The National Family Partnership has recognized the Village of Mundelein as an award winner for its Red Ribbon activities. In 1994, the town received a second place award for the celebration that indeed lasted one full week. A family country-western dance earned honorable mention.

This year decorating will begin Oct. 20, with a kick-off rally scheduled at Mundelein High School Oct. 22.

"We've added Quig's on Thursday when it's teen night," said DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) Officer Kerry Demski of the Mundelein Police Department. "We want to have a positive alternative, something good to do instead of going out getting in trouble."

A portion of the admission to Quig's "Haunted Orchard" adventure will be donated to Mundelein's Red Ribbon activities.

Plans for the weekend include a junior high dance on Friday, family bowling at Fairhaven Lanes on Saturday, and the country western dance Sunday evening at the Village Skate. Monday is Family Movie Night at the Mundelein Cinema, when anyone wearing a red ribbon gets in free to the 7 p.m. show.

RED RIBBON

The highlight of the week is the "Night Before Halloween" which has been incorporated into Red Ribbon Week activities. Offered by the park district at the Sandburg gym, the annual party is free and includes games, prizes, raffles and refreshments.

Volunteers are needed to help with the various events; call Demski at 949-3250, or Rita Gordon at 566-0650.

Libertyville High School will focus on Red Ribbon Week even earlier, said Mark Buesing, co-sponsor of Sigma Alpha Delta (Students against Drinking and Drugs). See RED RIBBON page B9

Southwest Scare-itory is fright place to hang out

Tiny awaits all brave visitors to Fright Fest.

Six Flags Great America has undergone its annual autumn "transformation" into a land of ghouls, goblins, thrills and chills.

Thousands of props, decorations and special effects combine for a spectacular autumn event with rides, shows and ghastly fun for the entire family. Fright Fest is open every weekend through the end of October.

Southwest Scare-itory, "the fright place to hang out," features desperados and such in Deadman's Gulch, the most luckless destination in the Southwest. Little campers will delight in the petting zoo and Southwest "Not-

So-Scary-Stories" in the Mission Plaza.

Mayor Slayer presides over Necropolis, the Haunted City of the Dead. Daring visitors will need plenty of time to browse in Necropolis, but watch your back, for what appears to be dead may really be alive, and what seems to be alive may not be!

The Mausoleum of Terror is not for the faint of heart, the haunted house guarantees as many surprises as you can handle, and then some.

Back for its sixth smash year "Love at First Fright" is Fright Fest's trademark musical with shows daily in the Grand Music Hall.

Zombie Jamboree Parade is the perfect end to a spooktacular day. The parade features a menagerie of ghouls, monsters and characters dancing to an engaging calypso beat. Parade begins each evening a half-hour before park closes.

Witness the mysteries of hypnosis, or volunteer to participate, in a live show that is hilarious and astounding with Susan Rosen, Mistress of Mesmerism!

Take a ride on the BOO Line through the backlots of some classic horror movies. Watch out for close encounters with creatures from beyond!

Newsom's Amazing Snakes of Houston will allow visitors to learn a little, fear a lot in Snakes Alive! Vipers are alive and loose on stage in the Snowshoe Saloon.

Especially for kids in the Southwest "Not-So-Scary Stories" is a must see. It's a spooky walk-through maze full of silly characters and creepy creatures. Animal shows, storytellers, clowns, pumpkin carvers, stilt-walkers and a petting zoo provide plenty of entertainment opportunities for children.

Fright Fest is open Fridays from 5 to 11 p.m., Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Admission prices are $31 for adults ages 11 to 59, $26 for children 4 to 10, $15.50 for prime timers, age 60 and over, and children under 3 are free.

Tomorrow, tomorrow—I'll do it tomorrow

Sung to the tune of "Anticipation":

*"Procrastination
Procrastina-tion
Is making me wait*

It's keeping me wa-ya-ya-ya-yaiting

My motto in life, despite what I think are my best intentions, seems to be "Never put off till tomorrow what you can put off to next week." I cannot seem to get anything done in a timely manner unless there is some sort of penalty for not doing it.

For example, my relatives would probably drop dead if they actually received a birthday card from me that didn't have the word "belated" in it. That is, if I remember to send it at all. The strange part is that I usually buy the card ahead of time, and even sign it, seal it and stamp it. Yet, it will sit on my desk for weeks past their birthday, until finally I feel too guilty to send it at all. Then, I put the card away for next year, only when next year comes, I don't remember where it is.

I do pay my bills on time, although I'm not talking about the date they're due—I mean the date just before the late charge takes effect. Again, it's that penalty thing.

My family has had to make certain adjustments to deal with my procrastination. Even the pets have acquired ways to handle it. For instance, my cat likes to have his dinner at 6 p.m., right when I get home from work.

If I forget, which I often do, he will bite my ankles repeatedly until I feed him. Believe me, it works.

So why do I continue to behave this way, even though I'm aware of it? I honestly don't know. What's worse is that I seem to have passed on this irritating personality trait to my children.

Suddenly, I find myself a victim of my own gene pool. For instance, my second son, a senior in high school, can never manage to do any of his homework or projects until the night before they are due. He'll approach me at, say, 9 p.m. to ask me to type a paper for him—one which he has just moments ago started writing. Which means I can begin typing at maybe 11 p.m., by which time I'm so tired and angry that I'm threatening him with all types of dire bodily harm if he ever procrastinates like this again. (Of course, nothing changes—we have the same situation and conversation at least once a month.)

Maybe I should try biting his ankles—it works for the cat!

And then there's my youngest son who has actually trained his body to never have to use the bathroom until one minute before the school bus arrives. At precisely that moment, he will clutch his stomach and rush upstairs so that, once again, Mom or Dad can drive him to school. This is procrastination honed to a physical art form.

My daughter on the other hand, has decided that it is safe to disobey me until just at that moment when my teeth begin to grind and my face turns a nice shade of purple. Prior to that I can scold, place her in her room, take away her weapons—whatever. She will not listen until I turn purple. (Personally, I blame Barney for that one.)

So now, I have created an entire new generation of procrastinators, and I don't see an end in sight. Perhaps procrastination is really a disease, like alcoholism, that can be passed on from generation to generation. It makes me wonder why scientists haven't done some sort of research on this problem.

Of course, if they're anything like me, they just haven't gotten around to it yet.

Life is precious, isn't it? Your good health is also precious. At Victory Memorial Hospital, we want you to be happy and healthy for years to come. That's why we offer a new test to detect osteoporosis in its earliest stages, before it affects your quality of life. The test takes only 10 minutes, is painless and is covered by some insurance plans. A baseline test should be performed anytime after the age of 40, similar to a mammogram. Future tests are compared by your doctor to recognize bone loss and develop a proactive treatment plan to help you follow your dreams.

DON'T LET OSTEOPOROSIS GET YOU DOWN.

To schedule an osteoporosis test, talk to your physician about a referral. For more information on the test and a list of risk factors, call Community Relations at 1-800-THE-CHOICE (1-800-843-2464).

MOVIE PICK

Tom Hanks really does it all in 'That Thing You Do'

Where does one go after leaving the Academy Awards ceremony for the second year in a row a big winner? Right to Hollywood's next level and buy your own monogrammed director's chair!

That's exactly what dual Oscar winner Tom Hanks has done, not only by directing, but also writing and acting in one of the biggest rushes of fresh air to come out of

Tinsel Town lately, "That Thing You Do."

Calling all fans of TV's "Happy Days," Hollywood's beach blanket movies of the 1950s and '60s, and devotees of cable television's "Nostalgia," "Nickelodeon," and "Nick At Night," and all other trips to those innocent days of 30 years ago.

"That Thing You Do," is the whipped cream on top of your strawberry shortcake; it's the cotton candy at the county fair; it's the tangy cherry and nuts on top of your hot fudge sundae.

"Thing" is nothing you can't do without, but something that makes everything more enjoyable. Hanks, who seems to be heading towards Hollywood's "Mr. Clean," title after "Big," "Forrest Gump," and the flag-waving "Apollo 13," wears many different hats in this one.

"Thing" is the frothy and delightfully innocent story of the meteoric rise of one young rock band from Pennsylvania to Hollywood's silver screen and overnight fame, ala Dick Clark in the 1960s.

Hanks plays the promoter who puts Pennsylvania's "Wonders" on track to short-lived stardom. Tom Everett Scott, Jonathan Schaech, Ethan Embry, Steve Zahn and Liv Tyler play the band and girlfriend.

The title song, the one that makes the Wonders famous, is played over and over during the film as the teens climb the ladder of musical success. We enjoyed it each time almost as much as the teenage girls that follow the band screaming all the way to filmdom throughout the movie.

There's no deep underlying meaning here. No lesson to be learned unless it's that even after one achieves success, keeping it is

Scott, Schaech, Zahn and Embry, familiar good looking young faces that one can't quite identify, are extremely believable in both the acting department and when they are on stage performing.

Hanks' wife, Rita Wilson, veteran actors Peter Scolari (Hanks' costar in his first TV sitcom "Bosom Buddies,") and Kevin Pollack, add to the enjoyment and that's the essence of "Thing." You know that the whole thing is corny, yet you find yourself enjoying the fact that no one rolls around in bed naked (a simple kiss will do), there are no quality kills outside of the band's effect on their audiences, and the only explosions come as the Wonders skyrocket to fame.

Return with us now to those beguiling days of yesteryear and have fun for a couple of hours - isn't that what this business of entertainment is all about? "Thing" gets four out of five stars. We couldn't give it five stars because we understood the entire story which means there must be something wrong since we seldom do this in movies that critics praise. —by GLORIA DAVIS

It's time to 'Think Spring'

When I think of spring the first thing that comes to mind is the daffodil.

Why am I already thinking of spring? Well, if you want to delight in an array of color come Easter time now is the time to plant spring bulbs.

Of all the spring bulbs my favorite is the daffodil. They brave the winter cold, poking their leaves through the snow creating a profusion of orange and yellow blooms as glorious to behold as the sunrise. They are extremely easy to grow, are perennial as the grass, multiply and last forever—they outlive us! As an added bonus, they are virtually pest free.

Their genus names, Narcissus, is based on the Greek myth of the youth so vain, he falls in love with his own reflection: the first daffodil springs from where his blood—a self inflicted wound, (for he cannot possess his hearts' desire)—falls to the earth.

Intrigued? Before you purchase bulbs there are a few things you should know. The best bulbs are round bulbs also known as "landscape" size, they are three year old bulbs, that will produce one or more flowers the first year.

Do not purchase "bargain basement" bulbs—they frequently do not bloom. You get what you pay for! Some of my favorites are the bicolor daffodils such as "Carbinner," and "Ceylon." The double narcissus "Sir Winston Churchill" is especially breathtaking. Among those that will flower year after year with little attention are "Actaea," "Artic Gold," and "Thalia."

Let's plant!

Though daffodils will tolerate shade, they perform much better planted in full sun. Please no soggy, heavy soil! If your soil contains a lot of clay, work in an abundance of organic matter.

Generally plant them six to eight-inches deep and five to six-inches apart. The more bulbs you plant, the prettier the show come spring!

You don't need to fertilize much. When planting I like to use Epsom Salts for strong color; and bloodmeal and bonemeal make good organic fertilizers. After planting water well.

Next season, after their blooms are spent, allow the leaves to turn yellow. Next years' blooms depend on leaves having time to replenish the bulb so do not cut them!

When picking stems for bouquets pick do not cut them. The blooms will last longer.

Here are some good sources for bulbs by mail:

Disney Enters The Cruise Business In a Big Way

by JIM WARNEK, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Disney only began accepting reservations September 30 for the first year of cruising of its ship the "Magic" and already many sailing's are sold out. This despite the fact the Magic's launch date isn't until 1998!

Why is Disney so successful in filling its first ship a year and a half before its inaugural sailing? Maybe it's because, like Disney World is like no other amusement park, the Disney Magic cruise ship is like no other cruise ship.

Not only do most cabins feature ocean views, half even have private verandahs. Forget closet sized bathrooms. All bathrooms on the magic feature bathtubs with in-laid tiles, the vast majority being "bath and a half" with separate facilities allowing use by more than one person at a time.

Let's back up a little, though.

It's not just this magnificent ship that is, in my opinion, going to make Disney's first venture into the cruise market as successful as their theme parks. It's the whole "experience" they create with the Disney cruise/resort vacation package. (This is, by the way, Disney's first cruise line not to be confused with "The Big Red Boat" which, at one time, licensed the Disney name and had Disney characters on board).

Even before guests leave home, they will have received a detailed itinerary of daily activities onboard the ship so they can begin their planning. On the day of arrival at the Orlando airport, Disney guests will be met at the gate and transported by new buses, complete with TV's and bathrooms, to an on-site Disney resort for a three or four day stay after which they will again board these new motorcoaches for the hour ride to Disney's own private terminal at Port Canaveral.

A typical Disney touch is the same key guest's used for their resort room is the one they will use for their stateroom on board the Magic cruise ship.

From start to finish, you'll know you were on a Disney Cruise.

Those of you who have cruised before may be familiar with the hassles of disembarkation. (That the term for getting off the ship at the end of your cruise). Disney promised that will be different, too. Instead of long lines and chain-link fences overlooking trash bins, Disney passengers will be offered entertainment and activities to make the process painless.

More details about the actual cruise next week!

What happened to days when 'We Loved Lucy?'

Dear Dr. Singer,
I'm concerned about what my kids watch on T.V. My concern goes further than what they choose to watch, though. I am concerned about what I believe is a lack of choice. I grew up on shows like "Nick At Night" shows. "Brady Bunch," "Taxi," "Happy Days," etc. Those shows seemed to be so much better than what is on today. I just wonder what your view is on this. R.S.

Dear R.S.,

I have to say that for the most part, I agree with you. I also grew up on the shows you mentioned and feel something kind of special when I watch "Nick" and see those shows. I am so thankful for that network. The way I see it is this: It seems that most every show today, be it sitcom or night time drama, has to focus on realism. Everything revolves around the real issues of the day and what actually occurs in our lives. No holds barred, so to speak. No protection from the cruelty of many life issues. Some would call this being informed.

The older shows, by contrast, seemed to focus on idealism or escapism. They had nothing to do with real life. There was a level of protectionism built in. Everything was happy, friendly, fun and genuine entertainment. The violence, outrage, hatred and gore were saved for the news. That was the reality. Even the news, at that time, as I remember, wasn't that bad. The question I always ask is: "why do we want to watch the pain of real life in our entertainment? I sure don't. It's not everyone's real life either! The Bradys were always colorful and close.

They did reflect an issue at the time. Namely blended families, however, they could resolve any family problem within 30 minutes. Lucy wore pearls to vacuum her many people are going through the same level of despair. The soap operas used to be the outlet for that. Also, let me point out that I have heard that, "G" rated movies have been proven time and time again to do better at the box office than either, "PG" or "R" rated movies. To me, it is a reflection of what is inside of the film makers, producers, etc. that is being shown. Not a reflection of the people watching it.

Now, I will not condemn a whole industry in one fell swoop. There are definitely good programs left. "Home Improvement" is one example of a very warm family show. I don't watch much more than that and Nick, so I can't really recommend others personally. I have given other programs a try, but I find many of them focusing on and exploiting the reality of our lives versus the more old fashioned family situations.

I can say, that if you are worried about it, keep it tuned to "Nick" or "The Family Channel" and talk about the shows with your kids. Some would say that by doing that you are sheltering your kids from real life. I remember in the old days when people would get angry at "The Brady Bunch" because "they just weren't real life." Well, I've got a news flash for those people. They weren't real life, never we're, never will be, however, they were entertainment and they touched and touch something very warm, family oriented and comforting for many people. To me that is the essence of entertainment.

And to the people who would tell you that sheltering your kids from real life is bad, I would reply: sheltering your kids from what Hollywood producers and directors today portray as real life is one of a parent's most important jobs. Real life can be wonderful and helpful and warm and comfortable. It can also be scary and violent and out of control. It depends on what you want to focus on. We don't want to let the '90s Hollywood version of real life—become real life. Take care!

SADD will participate in the Oct. 19 homecoming parade and CATS parents will sell red ribbons during the game against Stevenson.

The annual Red Ribbon Classic 5K run around Butler Lake in Libertyville is sponsored by Sigma Alpha Delta and Athletes Committed to Excellence.

Runners (and walkers) of all ages will depart at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 26 rain or shine. Registration is $13; the proceeds go to SADD and ACE.

At Stevenson High School, student groups were encouraged to come up with their own ideas, said Melita Lendway, substance abuse prevention coordinator.

"They are encouraged to select activities they can take to completion," she noted. Groups include the peer helpers, Stevenson Theater Outreach Program (STOP) and SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving.) All members sign a contract agreeing to abstain from the use of tobacco, alcohol and other drugs, Lendway said.

"Drugs Destroy Dreams" will be the message on the school marquis. Students will also be selling suckers urging others to "Bear Down on Drugs."

Video monitors in each SHS classroom will broadcast the Red Ribbon message to the 3,125 students.

Up in the northern part of the county, Warren Assisting Youth with sponsor a Friday night alternative celebration Oct. 25, said Deb Johnson of Warren Township Youth Services.

For middle school students, the dance will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. at Woodland School. Participants will be encouraged to "dress up" in red and all will receive a "Say Boo to Drugs" T-shirt.

COURAGE (Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment) volunteers will switch their focus to the anti-drug message as they descend on the communities of Grayslake, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst and Antioch. Organizers hope residents in all four villages will come out in force to decorate Oct. 26, and several activities are planned with local entities.

The Halloween Howl in Antioch Oct. 25 provides an opportunity for youth to have a good time without substance abuse, said COURAGE youth group chairman Linda Bergin, winner of the "One Person Can Make a Difference Award" in 1994.

"The youth encourage their friends to remain drug and alcohol free," she said. "It's a good way to build a healthy network of peers."

That sounds like good advice for people of any age.

rug. The Happy Days kids did things for each other, etc. etc. etc. Maybe it wasn't real life and maybe everyone didn't live in that situation, probably no one did, but I see nothing wrong in our entertainment being happy, uplifting and teaching good things versus what we see today: shootings, mega amounts of cop shows, drug busts, violence, gang affiliation, underlying political messages, etc.

I think we really need to clearly define entertainment when looking at this issue. Entertainment is not a support group. It isn't and shouldn't be designed around how

Financing a business expansion: No time to honor tradition

Sooner or later, all growing businesses reach the point where they need to raise funds for expansion. According to the Illinois CPA Society, the key to financing the growth of your business is willingness to try both traditional and not-so-traditional ways to find capital. Here's a rundown of some ideas to get you started.

Look to your nearest and dearest

Many of the most successful companies would not have been created in the first place had it not been for the financial backing of friends and relatives. Of course, borrowing from relatives and friends can get sticky. If you decide to go this route, be sure to have a written agreement that clearly spells out the terms to which you and your benefactors have agreed. And be sure that you don't set the interest rate too low or the Internal Revenue Service may recharacterize the loan in order to infer interest at the statutory federal rate. This situation also may result in gift tax consequences.

Cash in or borrow from retirement funds

Consider cashing in the retirement plan you took from your last job or withdrawing money from your Keogh account. But be aware that you'll be required to pay income tax on all funds you withdraw, and also be subject to a 10 percent penalty if you are under age 59 1/2.

If you spouse has a 401(k) plan at work, a better alternative might be to borrow against the plan. Employers' rules vary, but you usually can borrow the lesser of the one-half of the present value of your vested benefits, or $50,000. Generally, you'll need to repay the loan within five years, and if your spouse quits or loses his or her job, you'll probably have to repay the loan all at once.

Apply for a home equity loan or line of credit

A good source of income for your business can be as close as home—that is, a home equity loan or line of credit or even the refinancing of your mortgage. Qualifying is relatively easy, and you generally can borrow up to 80 percent of the equity in your home. The downside is that you could lose your home if the business fails.

Approach your suppliers

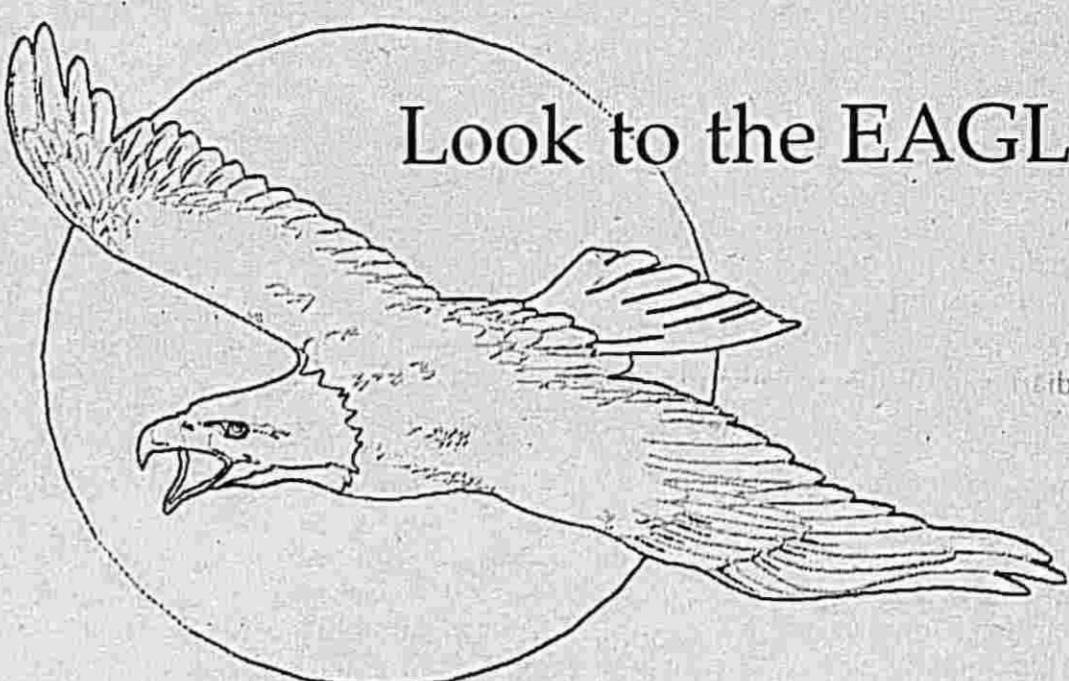

Trade credit from suppliers is a short-term source of funds that is often overlooked by small businesses. If you're an established firm that needs money for the short term, consider asking your supplier to ship inventory or manufacturing materials and to allow you 60 to 90 days to pay for them. Savvy suppliers may be more willing than you might expect—they realize that if you grow, they will grow, too.

Try the small business administration

The SBA offers several categories of loans, most of which fall under the SBA Guaranteed Loan Program. Proceeds can be used as working capital or to purchase inventory or equipment. These loans work like bank loans except you must have already been turned down by a bank to qualify. However, be prepared for a tedious and time-consuming application process. Financing

Reach for an 'angel'

The term "angel" is used to refer to a wealthy individual with excess cash to invest in new or growing companies. In addition to providing cash, your angel acts as a guardian watching over you and your business. But finding an angel can be tough. Start by getting the word out through the help of lawyers, CPAs, bankers, and local business people you know.

Check out government sources

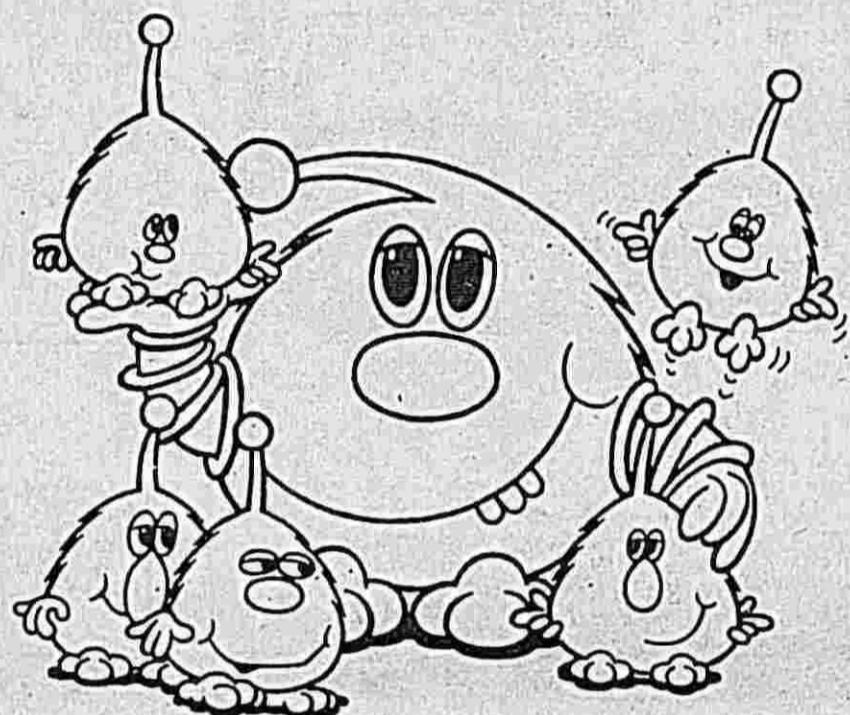

Small business investment programs and economic development corporations sponsored by state and local governments are other often overlooked sources of financing.

When seeking funds from these groups, be prepared to discuss how your business will benefit the locality.

Consider factoring

Factoring allows you to use your accounts receivable to raise cash. You go to a factor—a lender that actually buys your accounts receivable at a discount and takes on the task of collecting the receivable from your customers. Typically, the factor might advance your company between 60 and 80 percent of the cash value of your invoices, depending on how old the accounts receivable are, who owes you, and how long you've been in business. Be aware that a factor typically charges a higher rate of interest than other more traditional lenders.

But all told, perhaps the most important factor in raising capital for business expansion is persistence. If one source turns you down or offers you unfavorable loan conditions, move to the next one on your list.

Silk Mandarin affords an elegant dining experience

Dining in Oriental elegance on some of the finest Mandarin food served in Lake County is an everyday occurrence at the Chinese restaurant located in Vernon Hills, off of Rte. 60, at 4 East Phillip Rd., west of the Hawthorn Shopping Center.

From the moment guests of the Silk Mandarin enter the diningroom, passing the intriguing aquarium filled with exotic tropical fish, the silk hangings and black lacquered elegance of the room indicate the Far Eastern Epicurean delights to follow.

Owner and head chef, Andy Tsai, gives every sumptuous entree his own special attention. That's why dining at the Silk Mandarin is always a memorable experience, especially when a guest chooses to enjoy the new weekday buffet, served from Monday through Friday, 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The buffet table is laden with over 20 tasty Oriental entrees including tempting fish, sesame pork, vegetables, chicken, fried mushrooms and much, much more, all for only $6.95.

The popularity of the Sunday Buffet, which also features crabmeat with cheese, shrimp fried rice, pork chow mein or General Tso chicken for starters, made Chef Andy Tsai anxious to have his weekday customers enjoy a buffet too.

Begin your gourmet dining with any of the long list of zesty appetizers which includes egg rolls, dumplings in hot pepper sauce, and won ton in hot pepper sauce. Then on to the tangy egg drop, won ton, or velvet corn and crabmeat soup before partaking of one of Chef Andy's popular entrees.

The names of some of the chef's favorite dishes, such as Happy Family, Twin Happiness, or velvet corn are as enticing as the delicious taste of the beef and shrimp in a special chef's sauce, or scallops and beef in a brown gravy sauce.

General Tso's chicken is Chef Andy's favorite dish made of delectable chunks of chicken sautéed

Longhorn Steak House better than ever

"We are a very energetic, positive combination," said Paul Gasior of Longhorn Steak House. "We feel the economic times and the growth in the area are all very positive; our restaurant and banquet facility reflect this. We're very cost and quality conscious and give people what they're looking for in these times."

Steakhouses were first developed out in the country in the form of the Supper Club, said Gasior, and the Longhorn offers that concept. Chef Ron Skow serves hand selected cuts of beef trimmed lean for health-conscious diners. The fresh seafood menu was expanded to include yellow fin tuna, swordfish, fresh salmon and grouper. Also included is a wide variety of pastas and an extended lite fare and burger menu! Large portions and a full salad bar reflect the "back to basics" philosophy.

Gasior served as vice-president of the McHenry County Restaurant Association in 1995 and serves as president in 1996. Business has tripled under the direction of the Gaskow Dining partnership and has received the Gold Plate Award of the county.

Longhorn's menu is very family friendly, with its wide selection of items, the full children's menu, and the casual atmosphere overlooking beautiful Lily Lake. Longhorn's Lakemoor banquet hall is one-half mile east of the restaurant and seats 850. Both facilities are scheduled for the addition of outdoor seating.

A new addition to their "family friendly format" is Sunday Family Style Dining. Large platters of food is passed at your table in the same fashion that Grandma served in her home years ago! Best of all, it's all you can eat. Imagine having a buffet brought to your table without getting up!

Enhancing the "supper club" image is the music in the lounge on Friday and Saturday nights. Listen to all the goodies from the '30s, '40s and '50s through the newest soft contemporary music. Your favorite show tunes are highlighted in the lounge.

The Longhorn is open for lunch Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., with dinner served Monday through Saturday from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday dinner is from 1 to 8 p.m.

Visit the Longhorn on Route 120 (construction is done, so we're easy to get to!), two and one-half miles west of Route 12 on Lily Lake, just 10 minutes west of Grayslake. Call (815) 385-9869 for more information.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) There are some loose ends to take care of on the job left over from last week. Utilize self-discipline to get these out of the way. Making decisions of a financial nature is favored later in the week.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 18) You're called upon to exercise your influence on a family member early in the week. If out shopping, you get a good deal on a gift for someone. A situation at work is irritating, but eventually resolves itself.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 19) You can clearly get your ideas across to others and rally them to your side. Travel plans related to work could be in the works. A money-related quarrel mars your weekend, so try to avoid this if possible.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Lashing out will get you nowhere. Instead, be sweet and patient for the best result. While you have right on your side, forcing the issue won't work. Avoid making a big fuss about a business aggravation later in the week.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Business meetings are happily favored. You make some important progress as a result. Do-it-yourself projects beckon. However, don't bite off more than you can chew. If you're unsure, hire an expert.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You have the answers to a friend's problems, but you have to wait until this person comes to you for help. If single, a possible romantic introduction is in the works. A family member surprises you with a suggestion for the weekend.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your social life takes a front seat to everything else, even important work matters. This can be detrimental at this time. You must apply yourself to tasks at hand before you can kick up your heels.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) It's time to tackle those domestic chores you've been avoiding and get them out of the way. Happily, family members pitch in and make the work go faster. The weekend is not the time for a political discussion with friends who disagree.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your creativity is accented, and you accomplish much. Seek some time alone later in the week to reflect and meditate. Avoid any weekend romantic disputes if possible that could put a damper on your social life.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Be tactful with a superior at work whose actions are confusing you. It's not the time to question your boss.

Not only will it not be appreciated, but it will label you a troublemaker.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) It's a good week to consider having bigwigs over for a special dinner, since mixing business with pleasure is favored. Your social graces can also be a career asset. This weekend, avoid a minor spat with a loved one.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You get more done when you work with others as a team this week. Avoid making a snap judgment about something that can come back to haunt you. Instead, get all the facts. This weekend, couples agree about mutual concerns.

Taste of 4-H to bring world-wide treats to county

The University of Illinois Lake County 4-H program will offer a "Taste of 4-H" Saturday, Nov. 9, 9:30 a.m.-2 p.m. If you've ever wondered what 4-H is all about, here's an opportunity to experience the 4-H "hands on" way.

The afternoon session will be held at Prairie Crossing Development, Grayslake, located 1/2 mile south of Rt. 120 on Rt. 45. Turn on Jones Point Road, turn right on Prairie Trail, follow to the end and turn right. You will see the stable. Registration will start at 11:45 a.m. Demonstrations will be: General rabbit care, watch a sheep herding demonstration, CCI demonstration, and basic horse care demonstrated by Chain O'Lakes 4-H Club members. Dress for outside temperatures!

All classes are offered free of charge so bring your lunch and spend the day. For more information or to register, call the 4-H office 223-8627.

Good Shepherd Hospital

Flu shots

Good Shepherd Hospital will offer flu shots to the public, ages 18 years and older, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 18 in the Prairie and Lakeview Rooms of the hospital.

The cost of the shots is $11. Appointments must be made in advance by calling 1(800)323-8622. The shots are being sponsored by the HELP Dept. of Good Shepherd Hospital.

Child CPR

A four-hour infant and child CPR certification class is being offered by Good Shepherd Hospital's Health Evaluation Lifestyle Programs (HELP) on Saturday, Oct. 19 from 8 a.m. to noon in the Meadow Room of the hospital.

The cost of the course is $25. Reservations can be made by calling, 1(800)323-8622.

Midwestern Regional Medical Center

Flu shots

The American Lung Assn. recommends getting flu shots between now through Nov. 15. However, pregnant women, people allergic to eggs, and anyone paralyzed with Guillain-Barre syndrome should not get a flu shot. Consult with your doctor to determine whether or not you or a loved one should have a flu shot this year.

Several physicians affiliated with Midwestern Regional Center, offer this season's flu shot for $15 per person. To make an appointment, call the physician closest to you:

Dr. Pedro Palu-ay, Lake Villa, 356-6602; Dr. Semyon Maslovsky, Lindenhurst, 356-6131; Dr. Glynis Vashi, Park City, 263-9900; Dr. Daisy Andaleon, 872-1615.

Lower cholesterol

Learn how to lower your blood cholesterol level by adapting healthy lifestyle changes during a free health education program on Wednesday, Oct. 23 from 6 to 7 p.m. at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, 2501 Emmaus Ave., Zion. A total high cholesterol level is a serious health concern. This program will help you take charge of your health. A clinical nutritionist will present strategies to help you improve your diet. For more information and to register, call Midwestern at 731-4109.

Victory Memorial Hospital

Education series

Victory Memorial Hospital will present a free community education series on Thursday, Oct. 17 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The topic will be "Pre-teen Substance Abuse." The presenter, Debi Leer, CADC, director of Bridge House/NICASA, will do a basic overview on prevention, education, signs and treatment of substance abuse in pre-teens.

For further information, call 360-4357.

Award grants for senior services in Lake County

The Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging has awarded grants totalling $839,183 to the following agencies to provide services to the elderly of Lake County in fiscal year 1997:

Catholic Charities of Lake

IIIB: Information & Assistance	$78,000
Outreach	44,000
Case Management	137,222
Ombudsman	27,208
Elder Abuse Intervention	1,322
Elder Abuse M-team	3,000
IIIC1: Congregate Meals	200,307
IIIC2: Home Delivered Meals	219,946
IID: III-D Services	8,716
IIIF: Health promotion	13,416
Total	$733,137

Prairie State Legal Services

IIIB: Legal Services	$34,563
Regional Transportation Authority/Pace
IIIB: Transportation	$71,483
Lake County Total	$839,183

This total includes both federal funds provided under Title III of the Older Americans Act and Illinois General Revenue Funds from the Illinois Department of Aging. The state funds are to be used for Case Management and Home Delivered Meals.

The funds are awarded for Fiscal Year 1997, which began on Oct. 1.

In addition to the above, $5,000 will be available for Emergency Support Services in a regional fund for the eight counties of the Agency's service area. Catholic Charities of Lake, the Case Coordination Unit for Lake County, will be free to draw upon this regional fund as needed.

The amount listed for the Regional Transportation Authority/Pace, is the Transportation allocation for FY97. Because Pace operates on a different fiscal calendar than the Agency on Aging, the contract will not be completed until January, but there will be no interruption in service or gap in funding.

Charles D. Johnson, executive director of the Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, emphasized that these and similar grant awards throughout the eight-county area served by the Agency were based on projected federal and state funds granted to the Agency by the Illinois Department of Aging. The grant amounts are subject to change if federal or state funding levels are reduced or increased.

The Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging is a non-profit organization responsible for the developing and coordinating a network of services for older persons throughout an eight county area of northeastern Illinois. The Agency informs and advises public and private agencies and the general public of the needs of older persons, and acts as an advocate on their behalf.

The eight county region includes DuPage, Grundy, Kane, Kankakee, Kendall, Lake, McHenry and Will Counties.

Health Dept. offers free breast cancer services

One out of every eight women in America today will develop breast cancer during their lifetime, and the risk increases even more as a woman grows older. October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and the Lake County Health Dept. reminds women of some of the free services available to them.

Women age 50 or older, underinsured or uninsured, and whose family income does not exceed 20 percent of federal poverty guidelines, are eligible for a free medical exam, clinical breast exam and pap test, as well as referral for a free mammogram at a local hospital. Ongoing yearly exams and medical follow-up are also provided.

In addition, free breast cancer education and referral services are available to all women, regardless of age or income. Health department educators are on hand to provide information and referrals, and to answer questions on breast cancer, mammograms and breast self-examination. Community groups are also invited to have a health department educator out for a presentation on these subjects.

For more information about the free breast cancer services available call, Gisela Garrison at 360-2917.

Stephanie Collins and Ryan Dolin are grateful for the high-tech capabilities of the Leica Wild Microscope at Condell Medical Center.

High-tech microscope doesn't miss a beat

Round Lake Beach residents, Stephanie Collins and her son, Ryan Dolin, are grateful for the high-tech capabilities of the Leica Wild Microscope at Condell Medical Center in Libertyville. Last month, Ryan underwent delicate reconstructive surgery when broken glass caused nerve, tendon and blood vessel damage in his right forearm and hand. A 15-year-old high school sophomore, Ryan is the drummer and co-composer for Nad, a five-piece rock band that plays throughout Illinois and Wisconsin.

Charles E. Frank, MD, specialist in orthopedic surgery at Condell, performed the three-hour procedure and predicts that Ryan will be back at his drumset in a few months. Funds to retire the debt on the microscope are being raised by the Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center at the Gala 5 benefit to be held on Nov. 1 at Highland Park Country Club. For more information, call 362-2905, ext. 5540.

Teen smoking information available

Youth tobacco use has become one of the most prevalent public health concerns in recent years. In fact, research has shown that the problem continues to grow in society. In the United States, more than 3,000 children begin to smoke each day.

"Unfortunately, there has been no reduction in teen smoking rates in the last decade," stated Dale Galassie, executive director of the Lake County Health Dept. "Currently, 80 percent of adult smokers smoked their first cigarette before they turned 18."

The Lake County Health Dept. cardiovascular risk reduction program, known as Have a Heart, provides education and information about the dangers of tobacco use to children and teens. For a free "Facts About Teens and Smoking" brochure call 360-5917.

Don't let thick lenses weigh you down.

Your eyeglasses don't have to be heavy anymore. Because now there's Spectralite. Spectralite lenses are lighter than ordinary plastic lenses, so you feel more comfortable. They're also thinner, so glasses are slimmer. And they're flatter, so eyes look more natural and glasses don't bulge. No matter what your prescription, you'll see and feel the difference the moment you put Spectralite lenses on. For a free demonstration, call us today.

Victory Memorial Hospital celebrates employee's dedication

One hundred fifty-one employees of Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan, and their guests "tripped the lights fantastic" at Midlane Country Club, Wadsworth, in celebration of their years of service to the hospital.

Tim Harrington, president of Victory Memorial Hospital, welcomed the honorees and guests. "Tonight we recognize those of you who have touched so many lives in so many different ways and continue to provide quality services to our community," he said. "This evening allows me the opportunity to say thank you for your continued support and efforts on Victory's behalf."

Top honors were received by Wayne Bohning, Zion, Diagnostic Imaging; and Naomi Jarmon, Waukegan, Surgery. Each celebrated 35 years with Victory. Anna Barton, Zion, Laboratory; Patricia Lehr, Beach Park, Case Management Services; Dora Lujan, North Chicago, Environmental Services; Mairi Pillie-Jakubiaik, Lake Villa, Progressive Care Unit; and Barbara Stevens, Winthrop Harbor, Patient Accounts; were honored for 30 years of service.

The Only Thing Scary About Our Health Fair is the Date.

Autumn Health Fair
Saturday, October 26
9 a.m. - 12 noon

It's the Saturday before Halloween, but that shouldn't scare you away from Midwestern Regional Medical Center's autumn Health Fair.

This year, we're focusing on what you need to know and do to help prevent cancer and to detect it as early as possible. We'll have no-cost screenings for oral cancer and a take-home colorectal cancer screening kit.

You can also make an appointment for a mammogram, and learn how to do breast self examination. We'll have a blood pressure screening, cholesterol screening, and all kinds of free information and give-aways to help you and your family stay well.

And you'll also get to meet our physicians who will review the results from all of your tests. A free Midwestern T-shirt will be given to everyone who completes all of the tests (while supplies last).

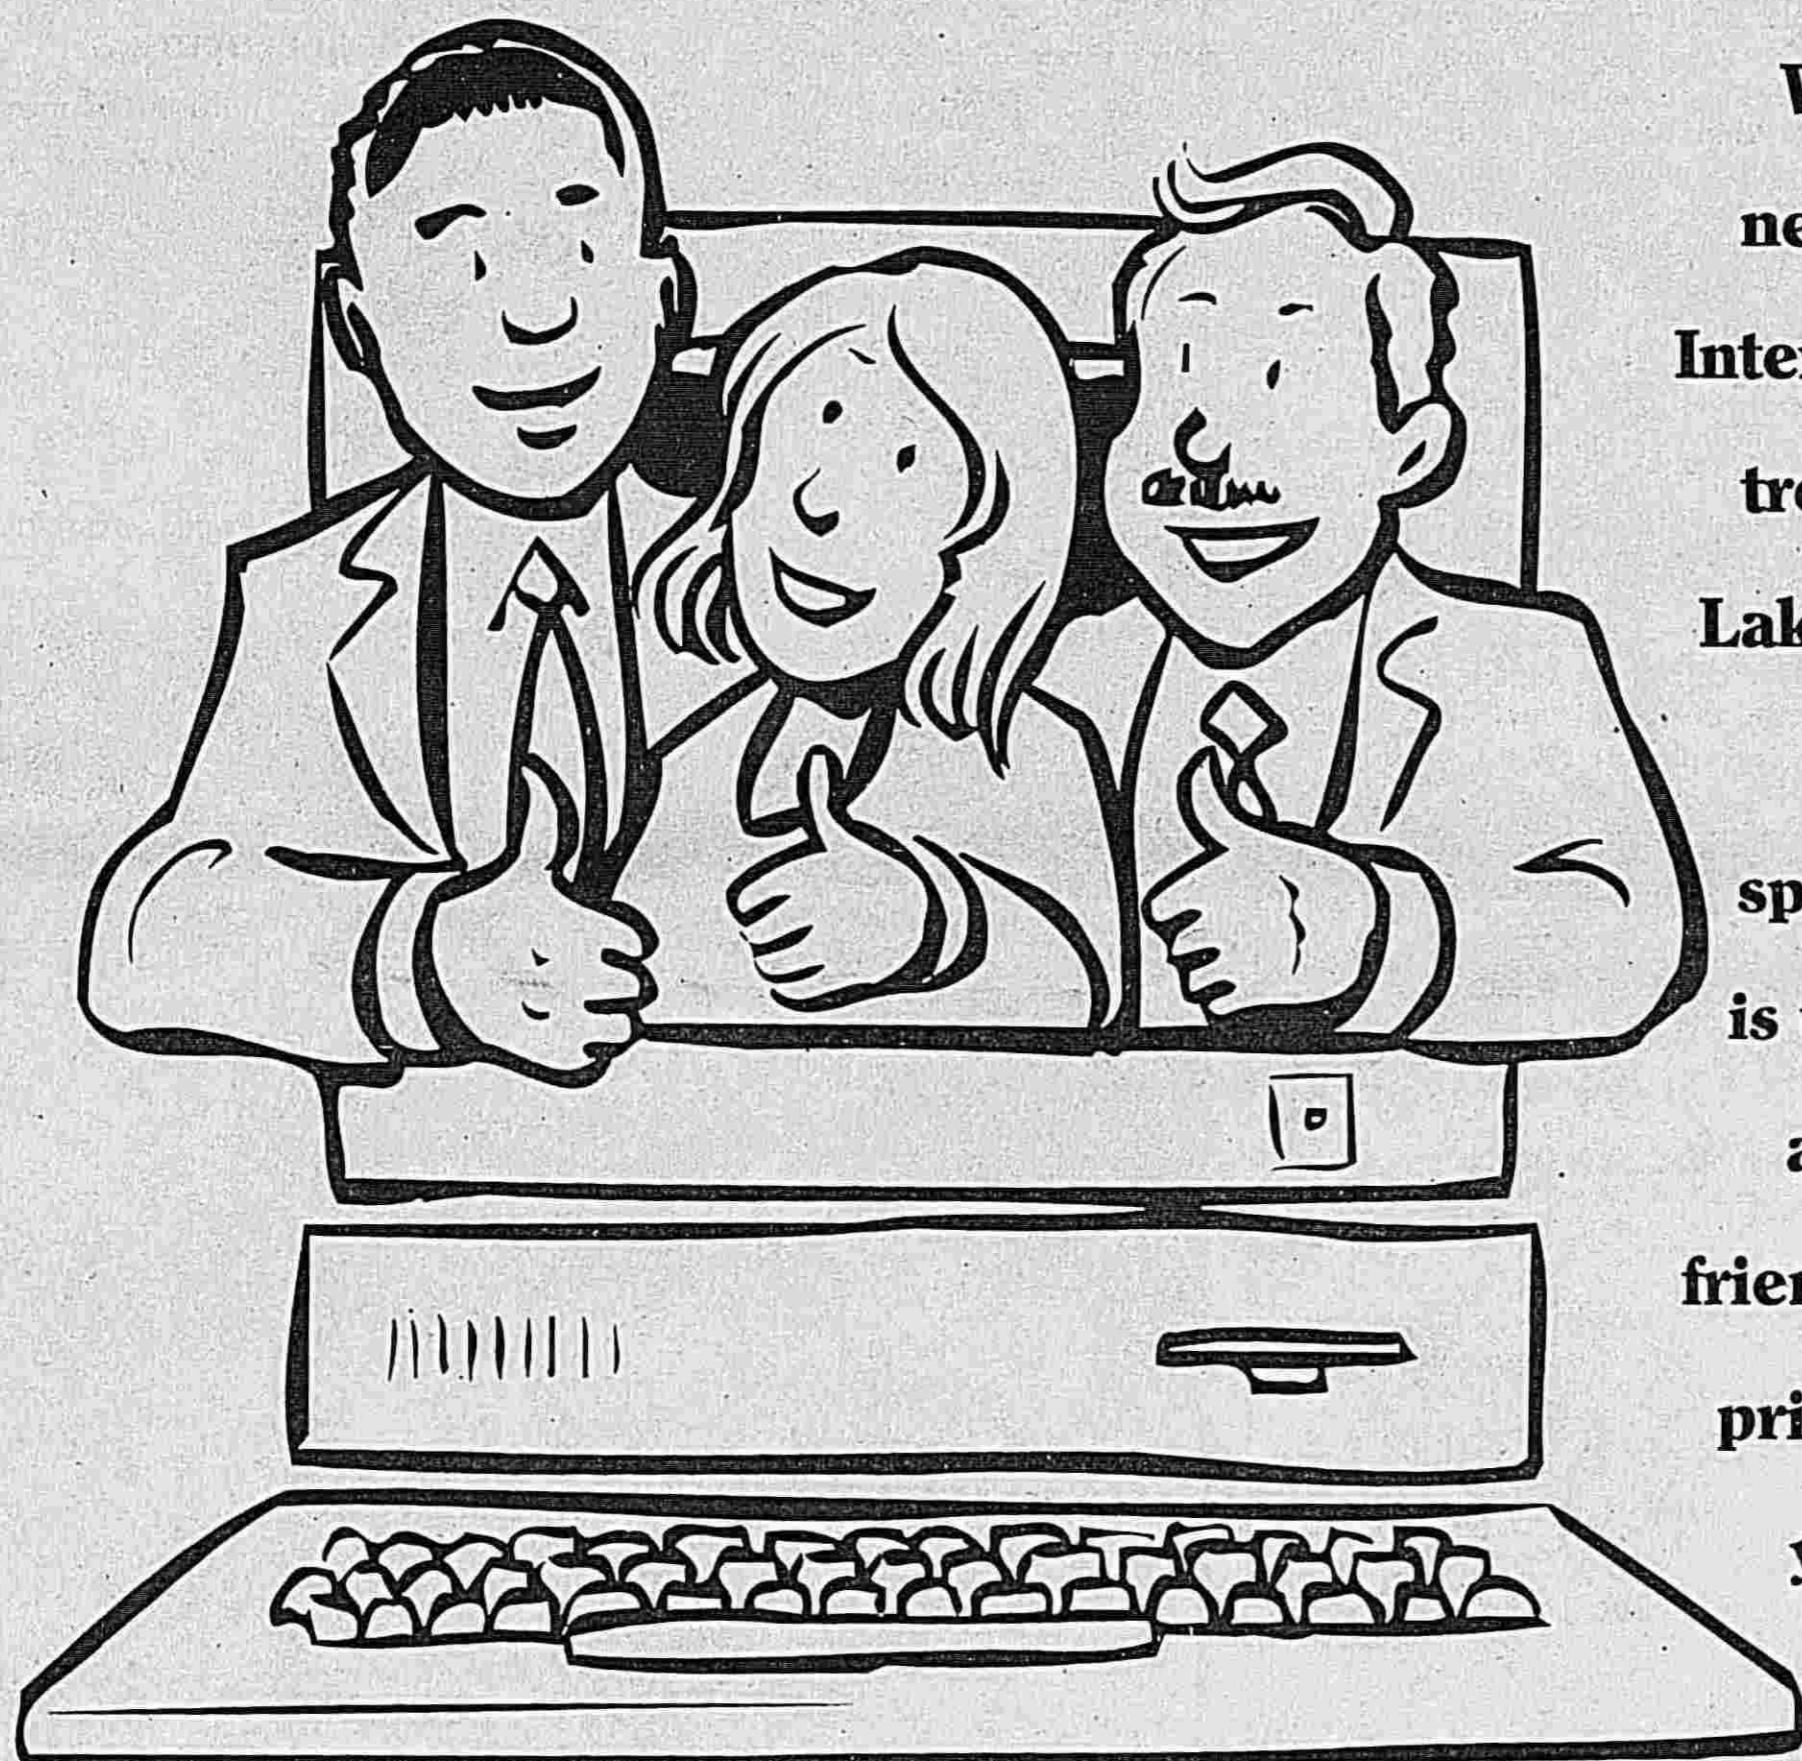

For more information, please call our community health department at 847/731-4109.

Investigate growing characteristics of ornamental grasses

Name a group of plants that requires little care, is attractive in winter, grows from 12-inches high to 10 to 12-feet high, changes colors as the season progresses, can be used in a container garden, as well as a water or wildlife garden, and is rarely used in the Lake County area?

If you guessed ornamental grasses, you are correct!

They can be great fillers or a dynamic accent. The strong vertical or arching habit as well as tufted and mounded shapes, with their feathery flower heads, make a unique contribution to the landscape. Its foliage moves in a breeze and catches light like few other plants, especially in the middle of winter.

I've gazed many winter mornings out my kitchen window at a large 10-foot high Erianthus ravennae, hardy pampas grass, enjoying its dance. Some hardy ornamental grasses for the Lake County growing zone are: Elymus arenarius 'Glaucus'. Blue lyme grass, has a striking blue foliage with one-quarter inch to one-half inch wide leaves and only gets one to two feet high. Its shape is mostly mounded with some arching habit to its leaves. Its flower isn't particularly showy. Be careful of its rigor mortis habit in perennial borders.

The plant can be planted in a drain tile or concrete barrier, then buried to grade to prevent invasive habits. A great stabilizer plant for erosion control! Will grow in about any soil and has no known pests or problems.

A large genus of ornamental grasses called the Miscanthus includes some of the showiest foliage as well as flowers of all the ornamental grasses. Some good ones for the Lake County area are: Miscanthus sinensis 'Gracillimus' maiden grass, one of the oldest cultivars and most popular of the ornamental grasses with its narrow, silver midribbed leaves, one-quarter to one-half inch wide. Will form erect clumps of foliage five to six-feet tall.

In this region of the county, the foliage turns brown in the winter and the copper colored flowers appear in late September. Some great looking cultivars in this genus are the 'Gracillimus Variegatus,' considered one of the finest recent ornamental grass introductions, 'Purpurascens,' which displays brilliant orange-red fall colors, and a 'Silberfeder' with its attractive silver midrib and showy flowers that are born two to three-feet above the foliage.

The Miscanthus sinensis var strictus is quite eye-catching as bright yellow variegation occurs in horizontal bands on the leaves. This plant can provide a striking accent in any garden, especially near water. Combining these grasses in ones garden can bring years of enjoyment as color, texture, light and wind all interplay.

There are more than 20 species of Miscanthus and 50 cultivars and growing daily so please investigate each grass carefully and make sure it fits your site, know the potential height, shape and growing characteristics. Then begin to enjoy a plant that gives and gives with little care on your part.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect/owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Wadsworth

What a waste

I agree with all the people who have called in to complain about the stupidity of the Lake County Board on spending $100,000 for a design for a new logo for Lake County. As one person called in and said, "Any Pagemaker, Corel Draw, or advanced WordPerfect for desktop could have done the same thing." I agree the money should have been put into scholarships for the students to win for their design. What a waste of tax dollars.

Tupperware feeds us

This is a message to Donna Abear. I really disliked your article about Tupperware. I'm a sales demonstrator for home parties and for some women it's our income to feed our families. It really was a knock-down article.

Left out

Vouchers will not give a choice to everyone. Religious schools reject two of every three students who apply and take only the best. The others are denied and rejected. No one talks about those who will be left in the public schools who have been robbed of their public funds.

Thanks, Guido

I want to compliment and thank "Guido," the Grayslake Ram. During all of the homecoming festivities and commotion, Guido took the time to have his picture taken with my granddaughter, who was experiencing her first homecoming. Thank you, Guido.

Recognize finalists

I noticed last week a listing in the Chicago Tribune of all the National Merit semi-finalists in the Chicagoland area and two were from Round Lake High School. I'm sorry your paper doesn't seem to have picked up on this story. I wonder if you can find out who these students were and put something in the paper on it? The area is trying to improve its image and I certainly think this would help.

Stop it now

I'd like to know what's wrong with the scumbags in the Far East? What are the idiots going to do when there's no more animals for their aphrodisiacs and herbal medicines? They should put a stop to this stuff now.

Asset?

The Talban Company claims their proposed supermall will be an asset to the North Barrington community. Evidently the neighbors across Rand Rd. and Windstone don't agree. Currently, there are 32 houses offered for sale with asking prices of up to $1.8 million. Also on the market are 54 vacant, buildable sites. These figures are from the MLS of Northern Illinois, Sept. 28, 1996. If Talban's supermall is approved, there should be lots more bargains available if you don't mind the traffic, crime, storm run-off, etc.

Teach a lesson

This is in response to "Overwhelmed" in the Sept. 13 Lipservice. I read that the police chief was arrested for drunk driving and refused to take the breath test. It seems that if Joe Citizen refuses, he automatically loses his license. Are we playing favorites because he's an officer? Nail the sucker, take his license, and let's start teaching these people in office a lesson.

Won't change

I believe Fox Lake does need a new mayor. I don't know if a new mayor can break through the "good old boy network" and the nepotism. Also, Fox Lake is the largest employer of the good old County boys. When the County boys back a mayor, they always win. Some of the guys hand their jobs over to their sons or daughters. It'll never change and Fox Lake will be the same.

It's a fact

How come the news media did not make it known that President Clinton gave control of our national forests and parks over to the United Nations? Many people don't know this, but it is a fact. He didn't want the media to know. If you want to hear the real news, try Channel 38.

No refuge there

Here's how stupid the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is. They just opened some more national wildlife refuges to idiotic hunters. A wildlife refuge means that wildlife can go there and be safe and not worry about humans and guns trying to kill them. This should be stopped.

Promises kept

I live in Libertyville and read that Hawthorn School District has balanced its budget for the first time in seven years. I want to congratulate the school board and administrators for living up to the promises they made at the time of the last referendum.

Thanks, Jim

Three cheers for Jim Pappas. The present administration, under the leadership of Mayor Hamsher, has now learned another lesson. Deal above the table. Just think how much more could have been accomplished by doing it the correct way. The people of Fox Lake thank you, Jim.

Sick of GOP

I'm sick of the Republicans out here. If anyone knows where the Democratic party is located, tell me so I can put a Clinton sign in my front yard!

No credit due

We don't give any credit to Carl Shrimpf for pushing for the convenience of the train. It was never anything he did. He tried to help, but that was about it. Did he have the land purchased and everything? I doubt it. All Carl Shrimpf worried about was Carl Shrimpf.

Don't fall for it

Alright, people, wake up in

Lakeland
Newspapers

Round Lake Beach. The elections are coming. Don't fall for the stupidity that's being passed out by Carl Shrimpf and his cronies. Please keep the mayor you've got now and the administration. They're doing the job properly. The only complaints are coming from people who got fired for being stupid.

Who's Mrs. Ring?

District 118 taxpayers, who is Mrs. Ring? Expenditures for dinners in the district office? Expenditures for new offices? How much? Who is in charge of Mrs. Ring? How is she helping students?

The survey says...

Mayor Davis, this is in response to question number seven on your survey? Guess what? There will be an election coming soon. That's what I like best about the village.

Resentful

Trustee Mattingly, what's more important, fire hydrants or the boat ramp? My fire insurance premiums increased for the first time since 1992. I resent paying my tax dollars for your enjoyment on your new boat this summer.

Athletes should be role models: Bears' Sayers

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

When the name Gale Sayers is mentioned, Chicago Bears fans' memories often go back to a rainy, muddy day at Wrigley Field as the Bears of George Halas took on San Francisco. Sayers scored six touchdowns that game Nov. 25, 1965, en route to a 68-game Hall of Fame career. He was the youngest ever inducted into the Hall on a fateful day in the summer of 1977.

"My biggest thrill was to make the Hall of Fame with Forest Gregg, Frank Gifford, Bart Starr and Bill Wuss. There were 25,000 people watching five broken down football players. If you ever have a chance to go to Canton, Ohio and the Hall of Fame, go. Today's players should get down on their hands and knees and thank the players in the past who played for $15,000 a year. Some have no clue who Otto Graham or Jim Brown were," he said.

Sayers hopes to be remembered as a much fuller person than his NFL career which was ended by a knee injury. He spoke of role models and heroes and differences between the two before some 120 people at Condell Medical Center in Libertyville.

"The most important role models are the people you are closest to all the time. There are positive and negative role models. I hope my son does not say he wants to be like Michael Jordan, but he wants to be like Gale Sayers. There is a big difference between a role model and a hero. It is far greater to be a winner in life than a winner in basketball or baseball or football," Sayers said. "God bless you if you are positive role model, if you are not, become one because the kids need the help."

"There are no guarantees out there — if you have the skill or desire to go all the way in your open field. I have worked hard as a business person and as an athlete," Sayers, known as the "Kansas Comet", said.

Sayers now is president of Sayers Computer Source, a hardware and software provider.

He recalled that when he was drafted in 1965, the NFL and AFL were in a bidding war for players. He almost signed with See SAYERS page C7

Senior volunteers in spotlight for a day

TINA L. SWIECH

More than 200 senior citizen volunteers were cited for their efforts at the annual RSVP (Retired and Senior Volunteer Program) recognition luncheon at the Country Squire in Grayslake.

The project, part of the National Senior Service Corps, involves those over the age of Lake County Community Action Project board president Rev. Olen Arrington gave an invocation before the meal. "I believe the power comes from the elders, the seniors," said the reverend.

Afterwards, RSVP president Frank Phillips said a few words. He noted the seniors should be recognized for the many volunteer hours they put into their community organizations including time spent on typing newsletters, stuffing envelopes and working in gift shops—all without pay.

"These are just a few of the ways the volunteers help," explained Phillips. "As president, I can testify volunteerism is alive and well in Lake County."

Gates explained the dire need for these people to continue in their services. "Some See VOLUNTEERS page C7

Injured worker thankful for efforts of life-savers

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

The time was just past 2 p.m., some 90 minutes before pipe fitter Anita Kratz would go home for the weekend.

If not for the courage of fellow workers, she may not have had a weekend at all.

"I thought I was going to die. I wondered if there would be any pain," Kratz said of the moment the wall began to tumble at the new Woodland Middle School.

Kratz, age 49, of Antioch, is recovering from injuries suffered in the Oct. 11 accident. A union pipe fitter, she was on the job for two weeks at the middle school.

"The Union Hall, Chicago 597 local called. When you work at a site, you speak to everyone. They did extraordinary things," Kratz said.

She has been a pipe fitter for 17 years. Previous work has come at McCormick Place Annex in Chicago, Pleviak and Grant High schools in Lake County.

"You can be at a job for one week or one year," she said.

She praised the work of a nearby sheet metal worker, Patrice Verville and others.

"I was at the wrong place at the wrong time. They did not know if the building was done settling or not, but so many people came inside to help," Kratz said. "God was looking down on us. I am glad to be alive," Kratz said Tuesday.

There was much work going on around the area which will house the home economics, art and the mechanics' room, where the boiler will be located. One block wall in the northeast area came down about 2:13 p.m. and a second wall and part of the roof also fell.

She said her family, husband Ken, and children ages 31 and 8, have helped much since the Friday afternoon accident. "My husband has been wonderful. And when it was sunny and 80 degrees, my 8-year old helped me clean the house," she said.

Kratz said she became a pipe fitter because "I love the great outdoors and working with my hands. If you don't like to be warm in the summer and cold in the winter, you won't like this line of work," she said.

Meanwhile, Woodland officials released a statement which said the district expects the 2,000-student school to open on time next fall.

"Although there is much speculation as to the reasons for the collapse, one must keep in mind that this area was not complete and still under construction at the time of the collapse. We are currently investigating the incident with the Occupational Safety and Health Admin. to confirm the cause. At the time of the incident, there were 100 construction employees working on the entire school site. Considering the extent of the damage, we are extremely thankful that there was no loss of life and only one injury," Dr. Dennis Conti, superintendent, said in a letter to parents and staff.

Motorcyclists invited to take historic tour of county

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

In an attempt to attract more people, the Lake County Museum is beginning to hold events that are not traditionally considered as museum exhibits or activities.

With nothing against a quaint tea, the museum is holding its first Fall Heritage Motorcycle Run on Sunday, Oct. 20, with riders from all over Lake County and beyond welcome.

Cyclists will take a self-guided tour, traveling 100 miles and passing through a number of historical places.

"It links 27 historic sites and points of interest in the county," said Katherine Hamilton-Smith, museum curator of historical resources.

A fee of $3.50 includes a continental breakfast, admission to the museum and the route guide. Breakfast will start being served at 11 a.m., and motorcyclists will start heading out on the road anytime around noon.

It was her idea to start what potential could become an annual event.

"We are trying very hard to attract more people who haven't been here before and to offer different kinds of programs," Hamilton-Smith said.

The run also works as a preliminary event to the November opening of a new wing at the museum, and a new exhibit, "Model A to Z28: America's Love Affair with the Road," which will feature a year-long tribute to the American automotive industry celebrating its 100th anniversary.

"It is sort of a pre-event that relates to the exhibit," Hamilton-Smith said. The exhibit will feature one new car and one vintage car per month, with the exception of April 1997, when motorcycles will be featured to coincide with Motorcycle Month, she said.

To promote the run, the museum contacted the Lake Shore Chapter of the Harley Davidson group, all the motorcycle dealerships in Lake County and handed out fliers at a BMW owners picnic held earlier this month.

Each rider will get a route guide, with directions down to the tenth-of-a-mile, and "down to every turn and twist they will make over the 100 miles," Hamilton-Smith said. "It is really very detailed."

Two historical sites on the route include The Mineola Hotel in Fox Lake. Built in 1884, the hotel is rumored to have been one of Al Capone's prohibition hideouts.

Another is in Mundelein, where the run will pass by Marlon Brando's family farm. Brando was a motorcycle rider in his youth, and starred in the movie "The Wild One," cast as the leader of a motorcycle gang.

The run is not confined to a certain make of motorcycle. "It is any brand of motorcycle, whether you ride a Harley, a BMW or a Honda, it doesn't matter," Hamilton-Smith said.

A fee of $3.50 includes a continental breakfast, admission to the museum and the route guide. Breakfast will start being served at 11 a.m., and motorcyclists will start heading out on the road anytime around noon.

Reservations are required, and can be made by calling the museum at 526-7878.

Individuals wanting to see the motorcycles are also invited.

Habitat for Humanity helps fulfill home ownership

Robin Perry was in for one busy week disguised as a summer vacation.

He would find himself assisting Habitat For Humanity's effort to celebrate its 20th anniversary in its hometown of Americus, Georgia.

"It was a very challenging situation, they worked us from 6 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. We built 20 houses in six days," Perry said.

Perry, who runs a consumers club, informed his fellow Gurnee Rotary club members of the trip and challenged them to set aside a day in November to grab that hammer and nail and with the help of trained supervisors, assist in a Lake County Habitat for Humanity "blitzbuild."

Jim Donovan also went to the 20th anniversary fun in Georgia, participating in a 130-mile fund-raising walk.

Julie Donovan, executive director of Habitat for Humanity, explained six houses have been built—three in Waukegan, three in Round Lake area. "Rotary Clubs have been a big supporter of Habitat for Humanity. We share your international emphasis. We give 10 percent of our funds to overseas habitats," she said.

Groups and contractors and firms assist by donating time, materials or sponsoring house sites. Habitat for Humanity allows families to have the dreams of home ownership come true. Families who are selected may be living in sub-standard conditions, all are working and trying to succeed but economic conditions are not in their favor, Donovan explained.

"We are able to keep our costs low and sell the houses for $55,000," she said.

Families put 500 hours of "sweat equity" into each home and have a 20-25 year mortgage with Habitat for Humanity.

"People in need of housing are living in small and dangerous places. One family was living in one room that had a table and chairs. Another family was making $20,000 a year with both parents working. There is a lot of tension in those homes. This is in one of the most affluent counties in the United States. You don't see it because we don't have shacks," Donovan said.

Families are assisted in budgeting and house up-keep skills.

"The community can take care of the problem by working together," she said.

Habitat for Humanity is Waukegan based and has a board of directors of 15 members. For more information, call 623-1020.

Neighbors help fire victims

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Round Lake officials are piecing together the burning questions left from a fire which killed one man, in a house full of 15 people.

Pat Walker, Round Lake fire investigator, said the home located at 1621 Poplar was demolished later in the day Oct. 13, after firefighters extinguished the deadly blaze which began in the early morning hours. Dead is Margarito Marcos, 21, who was reportedly asleep in a back bedroom of the house. Fourteen of his family members escaped unharmed.

A neighbor, Susan Field, has been instrumental in collecting donations for the family which includes a number of children. Walmart, Kmart and Omni have all contributed to the victims by donations of personal items such as socks, underwear, t-shirts and gift certificates for food. Barb Pergander, the principal of the Beach Elementary School is also working to help the family by encouraging donations from staff and parents. "The community has really come together, the neighborhood is really pulling together," said Field.—by TINA L. SWIECH

Township salaries decided

ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP—Township trustees lowered the salary of the township supervisor by $6,000. They also decided to pay themselves $175 a meeting, increase the township clerks pay $12,050 for 1997 with 3.5 percent increases each year. The assessor will get a $3,000 a year raise and make $44,000 for 1997 and get a 3.5 percent increase each year until the year 2000 and the supervisor will be paid the same rate. The highway commissioner will make $63,733 in 1997 with 4 percent increases after that. Trustees also will only give themselves two excused absences. Any more misses and they don't get paid.—BY ALEC JUNGE.

Twp. holds line on salaries

LAKE VILLA TOWNSHIP—Township trustees rejected a request by Township Supervisor Sue Hanson to consider increasing the salary of the highway commissioner from the 1997-2000 period. Trustees voted in August to keep the salary at $34,000 for the next four years. Trustee Michelle Wolf said Hanson should have brought up the suggestion when the salaries were set and not now. She feels there will be a quality candidate for this position. Hanson said the salary is low compared with other highway commissioners considering Lake Villa Township has 56 miles of roads. She fears the salary will discourage qualified people for the office.—BY ALEC JUNGE.

Condo confrontation

MUNDELEIN—Owners of existing condominiums along the shores of Diamond Lake voiced their objections to the developer building still more of the units which they say are constructed with inferior materials. Represented by attorney Michael Falls, the Harbor Pointe Homeowners' Association has filed suit against developer Carl Wasserman who they contend used small, lightweight floor joists that have cracked, causing the floors to sink, and doors to become inoperable.

GRAYSLAKE—Beer, brats and a bonfire will all be featured at Octoberfest being held Saturday, Oct. 19, at Center Street Square in Grayslake. Admission is free.

The festival is being presented by the Grayslake and Waukegan Exchange Clubs from 3-10 p.m. to benefit the Child Abuse Prevention Center which the Lake County Exchange Clubs hope to build. The cost of the event is being underwritten by the merchants located in the shopping plaza. Many of them will have outdoor booths during the festival.

Among the entertainers are John Campbell, a long time blues piano player; the Waukegan Symphony Brass Quintet will play German music; Ruth Ann Lillstrom, a folk singer from Grayslake will perform; and storyteller Joyce Mesrobian will spin her folk tales and fables from 4-8 p.m. There will also be dancing, bobbing for apples, a pumpkin display, crafts and free pony rides.

The Grayslake club will sponsor the beer tent and the Waukegan club will serve traditional German food including bratwurst and sauerkraut.—by ELIZABETH EAKEN

Warren board OKs salary cuts

GURNEE—Warren Township trustees defended the measure and unanimously approved salary cuts at Monday's meeting.

"These cuts reflect what we think the positions should be paid," board member Joe Schaberger said.

"The salaries are for a position, not a person," trustee Donna Radke said. "Just imagine the number of calls we would receive if we had to cut football because of its costs."

Member Shirley Goetz suggested the salary cut for supervisor is too much. The salary cut for that position is the largest of all, from $57,240 to $30,000.

Other cuts: assessor $57,240 to $40,000; clerk $12,000 to $6,000; highway commissioner, $57,240 to $50,000 and trustee, $3,600 to $3,000.

Under the plan suggested by Depke, a 4 percent raise will be given to the supervisor, assessor, and highway commissioner. The four-year payout for highway commissioner: $50,000; $52,000; $54,080 and $56,242. For assessor: $40,000; $41,600; $43,264 and

Wildcats on the loose

LIBERTYVILLE—The Libertyville High School homecoming parade will begin at 10 a.m. Oct. 19. More than 50 parade entries will include representative of the Class of '46, along with an assortment of floats, vehicles and marching groups from clubs, classes and organizations. Heading down Milwaukee Ave. to Rte. 176, the procession will make its way to the school where the Wildcats will face the Stevenson Patriots in an 11 a.m. sophomore game; the varsity contest begins at 1 p.m.

Haunted house scares up fun

LAKE ZURICH—Among all the haunted houses held in Halloween season, one that stands out is run by St. Matthew Lutheran School.

The house has all the "ooohs and aaahs" associated with any ordinary haunted house, but keeps away from any demonic themes and has no references to witches or Satan that creep up in other haunted houses.

This is the seventh consecutive year that the Lake Zurich parochial school has held a haunted house, intricately built inside the school's gymnasium, and from Terri Mueller's standpoint it should be the best.

On a scale of 1 to 10, Mueller rates the scariness of St. Matthew's Haunted House at a high level of 8.

"That is why we do not let children in it."

The haunting in the Adult House will begin on Friday, Oct. 18, from 7 to 10 p.m., continuing in the same hours on Oct. 19, 20, and Oct. 25 through 27. Admission is $6 and is payable at the door.

A tamer Kidde House is also being offered once again, with the more scary or gory parts of the Adult House covered up will be open from 3 to 6 p.m. on Oct. 19 and 20, and again on Oct. 26 and 27. A fun fair is also held at the same time with games and prizes. Admission is $3.

Aussie teaches writing tips

WAUCONDA—An Australian author with common sense "tricks" on how to get students to enjoy writing stopped by Waconda Grade School and Cotton Creek School the other day.

Rodney Martin has given presentations to children all over the world with similar success. "Good literature always works a certain way for kids," Martin said, speaking to a group of third, fourth and fifth grade teachers last week.

What does he do for children that has him globetrotting around the world?

"I force them to think like an author," he said, "in terms of plot and theme."

The way Martin gets kids to think like adults is through storytelling, using big-sized books with large print and graphics to draw their attention.

Martin asks students questions as he is reading aloud, noting aspects of different text structure and asking questions dealing with what certain words mean and what the children think will happen.

"I get them used to thinking as a writer, thinking ahead," Martin said.—by SPENCER SCHEIN

Salvi for Senate over liberalism

Brushing aside the tasteless and frightening hyperbole of television advertising, the campaign for who will be elected the new U.S. senator from Illinois boils down to a choice between a Democrat with a well established liberal record and a young Republican with a demonstrated conservative record who possesses the courage to take independent stands on hard issues.

We think it's time for Illinois to be represented in the U.S. Senate by a leader with a high sense of moral conviction, who espouses traditional American sentiments, who believes in family values and a representative dedicated to advancing the cause of personal freedom as opposed to centerist government.

Those attributes are embodied in Al Salvi, a Lake County resident who is battling the odds again in the Nov. 5 election as he did in winning the Republican primary, our choice for the new U.S. senator from Illinois.

Al and his wife, Kathy, the mother of their five young children, decided that placing the future of their family on the line for the uncertainty of public life was worth the fight to help end four decades of liberalism in government that have left our nation reeling from the forces of moral decay, a crippling burden of taxation and the unraveling of a social system and way of life that has been envied the world over.

We share Al Salvi's vision of a better tomorrow and we are convinced he can make a difference in the forum of the U.S. Senate.

One wonders what kind of standards Democrats and obliging liberal media pundits have set for our nation when they label Salvi an "extremist." Al Salvi has taken strong positions in favor of a balanced budget, income tax reform, term limits for all members of Congress, meaningful crime control that involves stiffer parole requirements, more prisons, the death penalty and truth-in-sentencing. The Republican nominee is pro-life and has spoken out vehemently against the pro-choice shams of unrestricted abortion, including partial birth abortion. He is for a strong military force, welfare reform and safer neighborhoods.

On balance, Al Salvi stands shoulder-to-shoulder with mainstream Americans on a majority of problems facing our nation today.

Al Salvi's opponent, Congressman Dick Durbin, has been virtually a poster boy for big government liberalism, voting for bigger and bigger tax bites and changes that rub against many Americans like curbing school prayer and permitting U.S. troops to be placed under U.N. command.

Dick Durbin and Al Salvi couldn't be farther apart in their political philosophies and the way they approach public service. The Salvi-Durbin contest is the classic "clear cut choice."

We have liked Al Salvi's ideas and style from the first day he presented himself as a Lake County political unknown running for state representative. He's never let down the people who sent him to the Illinois General Assembly. We don't think he'll let down the people of Illinois if they send him to Washington. Al Salvi will make a great U.S. senator.

County Board's revamping due

In last spring's primary election, voters made decisions that will reshape significantly the Lake County Board due for reorganization in December. They selected a number of candidates who are running unopposed Nov. 5, including some committed to slowing the county's transformation from a suburban landscape to an urbanized enclave of high density housing and intense commercial development.

In the Lakeland Newspapers readership area, among the candidates whose election already has been assured by virtue of being unopposed are the following:

Bonnie Thomson Carter, Grant/Wauconda townships; Al Westerman, Warren Township; Sandy Cole, Grayslake/Wildwood; John Schulien, Libertyville; Steven Mountsier, Barrington; Robert "Bob" Grever, Lake Zurich, and David B. Stolman, Buffalo Grove.

There are four contested seats in the Lakeland coverage area. Incumbent Suzi Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) gets our endorsement running against Joyce Frayer, an independent. Schmidt's experience in county government is preferred despite Frayer's extensive background in public office contained in service as a village mayor and current Lake Villa trustee. Schmidt is a notable advocate for open space and preservation of natural resources. She is an unwavering voice for controlled development and sensible growth.

Incumbent Larry Leafblad (R-Highland Lake) is recommended over an unknown Democrat, Dennis Murphy. Leafblad knows the repercussions of "blank check" growth and takes moderate, practical positions when flooding, traffic gridlock and impact on schools issues are raised. Incumbent Jim LaBelle (R-Zion) is a veteran board member whose experience alone gives him the nod over Mamie Rae McNutt, even though we don't always agree with him. Incumbent Martha Marks (R-Riverwoods) has earned reelection for her fairness, concerted opposition to special interest politics, and dedication to protection of the environment. She is opposed by Democrat Pat Wilder, whose only experience in elective office has been as a school board member.

Newly elected County Board members take office the first Tuesday of December when a new chairman and vice chair will be selected by representatives of 23 individual districts. A total of 16 seats are to be filled in balloting next month.

Alarm sounded by Illinois wee wee cops

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Big Brother in Springfield is also trying to become our nanny when it comes to private beaches in Illinois.

If someone doesn't holler "whoa" pretty soon, State Rep. Cal Skinner (R-Crystal Lake) says property owners having access to a private beach are going to get what amounts to a state-imposed property tax.

An official inquiry was launched when someone discovered baby wee wee at a beach or worse, the discarded contents of a loaded diaper. Some momma doubtlessly neglected to equip the young swimmer with rubber pants.

Well, as Skinner related the No. 1 caper—or was it No. 2?—the alarm was sounded by protectors of public health at an unheralded meeting in Fox Lake, an ideal spot because the plethora of private beaches in west Lake County.

As the state representative described them, "two Springfield types" explained why it was in everyone's best interest to have two porta potties (one for each sex), a telephone, a first aid kit, and a life buoy attached to a 25 foot rope at every private beach in Illinois.

Imposition of such a requirement would cost members of an association maintaining a private beach an estimated $30 each per year, or more if property owners are not organized. Illinois is notorious for unfunded mandates.

Apparently state bureaucrats rank nannies more important than lifeguards at private beaches. Their reasoning is impeccable. With a private beach porta potty nearby, swimmers won't have to watch where they step.

WOMEN'S WORK—Progress women are making in the health care professions is evident in the make-up of incoming students at Lake County's Finch University of Health Sciences/Chicago Medical School.

In the new Class of 2000 of 176 future physicians, 74 are women. Age range of new medical students is 18-46 with the average age 26. By state, the largest group of 71 is from Illinois. California is second with 61 enrolled. Only other state in double digits is New York with 14.

SOLID CHOICE—As former principal planner in the Lake County office of Economic Development, appointment of Linda Jorn as director of the Small Business Development Center at the College of Lake County was a wise choice. With the county for 10 years, Jorn worked closely with the late Tim Budd, who set high standards for service at the Small Business Center. Jorn, a resident of Lake Villa, is on a first-name basis with all the movers and shakers in county economic development.

PROTESTING—Pickets are being called out this weekend and next weekend at St. Matthew Lutheran Church, Old McHenry Rd., Lake Zurich, to protest graphic scenes of violence being depicted as part of a Halloween haunted house event. Church members shocked by the display say scenes go far beyond ghosts and goblins. Proceeds of the haunted house reportedly will go to reduce church debt.

SEE MICHAEL RUN—Economy-minded Chicago Bulls fans are discovering a great way to see the world's greatest basketball player and their favorite pro basketball team. Follow them to Milwaukee in a game against the Bucks. Only catch is that you'll probably find it necessary to include two Bulls appearances in Milwaukee in a package ticket buy.

The Bulls have Bradley Center appearances Tuesday, Dec. 3, and Friday, Jan. 10. Compared to United Center prices, Bucks tickets are a steal, starting as low as $107 for a 10-game package. Ticket maestro Steve Tarachow says the Bulls love to have Illinois residents in attendance.

Lump sum assessments don't square with statutes

NAOMI MITCHELL

Lake County, not your local assessor, has fixed it so it is virtually impossible for homeowners to protest their real estate assessments. The county did this by lumping land and improvement together and publishing one figure saving the county $60,000 according to the Supervisor of Assessments Ken Larson.

A protest before the County Board of Review is generally done on the basis of comparable land (commercial, lake front, subdivision, lots and acreage sizes) and comparing "improvements" such as bi-levels, tri-levels, ranch, 2 story, attached or detached garages (the square foot of living area is the key).

A combined figure as done for the first time in 1996 for 1995 is totally meaningless. It is the opinion of a Lake County Assistant State's Attorney who has gone on vacation to Greece these two weeks prior to Oct. 14 the last day to get in a protest.

When checking with the State Property Tax Appeal Board in Springfield, I asked for the statute that told what was required in the publication of assessments. I was given ILS Chapter 35 200/12-25 which says, "The publication of the assessments shall include the name of the owner or of the person who last paid the taxes on each property, and the total amount of its assessment and how much of the assessment is attributable to the improvements on the property.

We have 220,000 parcels in Lake County (round off to 200,000) multiplied by the difference (40 cents) between publication fees a) For a parcel listing including the name of the property owner, a property index number and the total assessment, 80 cents per parcel. b) For a parcel listing including the name of the property owner, a property index number, the assessed value of improvements and the total assessment, $1.20 per parcel.

This was all done without any forewarning to the taxpayers.

It is too late to do anything about the publication of assessments this year. Remember each succeeding year's taxes are based on the previous year. They are not retro-active to another year—and you can only protest during a 30 day time period.

Where is the $60,000 going? I would rather have the information immediately necessary to determine whether I must protest my taxes and then spend the time working on my comparables.

If you agree tell your local assessor and write Ken Larson, Supervisor of Assessments, 18 N. County, Waukegan, IL 60085 that what has been done this year is unacceptable. Keep a copy of your letter.

Editor's Note: Mitchell is a resident of Wooster Lake and a retired elementary school teacher.

PARTY LINES

Al Salvi on a roll, Dick Durbin lead drops

Party Lines, Lakeland Newspapers' column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

The latest Mason-Dixon Research poll shows that Lake Countians may very well help send their first native to the beltway.

"Salvi goes to D.C." is looking more and more like a reality as statewide polls show Durbin's lead cut to 11 points and falling.

The news may come as no shock to Lake County residents who overwhelmingly supported their "homeboy" in the primary.

Salvi continues to exceed expectations and appears to be winning by getting his grassroots message to the people.

Beaubien

All day long—Republicans will be coming for brunch and staying for tea Sunday at Marriott's Lincolnshire. Here's what's happening: At 11 a.m. State Sen. Bill Peterson (R-Buffalo Grove) will stage his annual brunch. The event attracts a GOP Who's Who in Peterson's south and west Lake County Dist. From 2 to 4 p.m. the Women's Coalition annual tea will take place at Marriott.

• • •

Finale—The last political event before Nov. 5 election day will be a reception Tuesday, Oct. 22 honoring Mark Beaubien, GOP nominee for state representative. Beaubien, a Barrington lawyer-banker who is leaving a secure seat on the Lake County Board, will be facing Robert Boness, the Democratic nominee from Round Lake Beach.

Beaubien, who also is Cuba Township supervisor, is favored heavily in conservative Republican territory. The reception will be held at Country Squire.

• • •

Pox on partisans—Partisan bluster likely will take a back seat in the Waukegan mayoral election next spring now that Atty. Newton Finn is running as an independent. Finn, who has been working with advocacy groups for two years on housing problems, says he is taking direct aim at both Democrats and Republicans "who leave civic battles to private citizens." As an independent, Finn avoids the primary that is part of the Waukegan election process.

• • •

Simon joins Gash—Retiring U.S. Senator Paul Simon will join State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash and her supporters for a campaign rally, Oct. 22 at Dancing Noodles Cafe, 215 Skokie Valley Road, Highland Park from 7-9 p.m. For more information, please call 266-VOTE.

• • •

Still lost—Mary Ellen Vandeventer says Waukegan Postmaster Vince Rooney has reimbursed her for the cost of postage for a fundraising mailing which never made it to people's homes in early October. The mail disappeared without a trace and has yet to be held.

The lost mail has no party affiliation, however, the Republicans mailed invitations for the Dole rally at CLC in late September that arrived more than a week late.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Back worthy judges

Editor:

In addition to the presidential and senatorial selections to be made in the November election, voters will be requested to retain or reject four Lake County judges. Judges Bernard Drew, Fred Geiger, Charles Scott and Stephen Walter seek retention to six-year terms. Often, the voting public has little or no knowledge regarding the qualifications of the candidates for judicial office.

Lake County has approximately 30 judges, who range in competence from exemplary to marginal. As chairman of the Lake County Bar Association Judiciary & Court Rules Committee, I have never been reluctant to criticize deficient judges.

Judges Drew, Geiger, Scott and Walter should be retained. They are among the best jurists serving in this or any circuit in the state. Bringing fairness, intellect, temperament and diligence to their duties, Judges Drew, Geiger, Scott and Walter have demonstrated their worthiness of retention. Their skills, in great part, have given the citizens of Lake County a Court System with the most expeditious, fair and impartial disposition of cases in this state.

Stop mid-term runs

Editor:

Robert Neal is a member of the Lake County Board from District 2. Now he is seeking to be the Lake County Recorder of Deeds.

Neal is in the middle of a four-year term. He's like a lot of politicians who run for a 4-year term, win it and then run for some other office two years later. There ought to be a law against that!

What politicians like Neal do is take advantage of us voters and taxpayers. When they win a four-year term they enter into a contract with us that they will hold that office for the following four years, then they breach that contract to go for another public office.

We voters can do two things. We can seek change in the law to prohibit public officials from running for another public position when they are in mid-term. The other thing we can do is to vote against candidates like Bob Neal who take no political risk when they do these things. By voting no to Bob Neal, we are saying he can't have his cake and eat it too.

Yorkhouse no solution

Editor:

We are absolutely opposed to the extension of Yorkhouse Road and are appalled that there has been another permit application. It has already cost too much, has not proven to be needed by traffic studies and it is not desired by the community. There has been more time and taxpayer money applied to the Wetlands Demonstration Project which is a valuable resource that must not be disturbed, especially by an unnecessary, very costly road.

Traffic all over Lake County is horrific. Roads need widening, lights need to be timed and patch "improvements" only serve to take money away from necessary projects and tie up traffic more. Yorkhouse Road through the Wetlands Demonstration Project offers not even close to an adequate solution to any Lake County traffic problems. Concentrate funds where most needed and protect what little we have of valuable natural environments.

Lachner narrows district

Editor:

Residents of North Chicago and Waukegan unite. State Rep. Thomas Lachner has conveniently chosen to disregard our areas in his government mailings. Instead, Lachner is focusing on the areas south of Waukegan and North Chicago.

Is this a deliberate action, an oversight, or is Lachner just totally ignorant of the fact that these areas are within the boundaries of his district? It is obvious that Lachner has only tunnel vision, and we are not in his range of sight.

Unlike his opponent Terry Link, who has repeatedly brought the importance of revitalizing the lake front, bringing business and industry to our communities, and most importantly, providing quality education for all areas of Lake County to the forefront, Lachner does not even consider our areas worth sending his literature to until he needs our votes.

It is time we take a stand and make our voice heard and our vote count. Let's send someone to Springfield who cares about all of the residents of Lake County, not merely a select few. If we hope to see change at the local level it is imperative that we have someone representing us who understands the issues and shares our concerns.

Terry was born and raised in North Chicago and this is where his roots are and always will be. He will be our voice in Springfield. Link is the obvious choice for the State Senate seat in the Thirtieth District. Get out and vote. The future of your community is at stake.

Lachner shallow

Editor:

As Terry Link's youngest daughter, I am shocked and disappointed at the series of events that have taken place in Lake county recently. While I am away at school at the University of Wisconsin in Whitewater, I closely follow the politics in Lake County. I am overwhelmed at learning my father's opponent, Thomas Lachner, has resorted to phony allegations regarding my Dad's support of both my sister and I.

My mother and father raised both my older sister and I to have a strong sense of morality, and to be able to know the difference between right and wrong, and I know that printing false and unsubstantiated accusations by anybody is wrong.

In the interest of setting the record straight, I will tell you firsthand that my dad, as well as my mom, supported both my sister and I financially, as well as emotionally. I am fortunate to have a father who has been as involved as my dad has been in my daily life, and I am disgusted by the remarks and allegations made by the Lake County Republican Party.

My dad is a decent, hard-working man, who has always demonstrated his commitment to his daughters. It sickens me that State Rep. Lachner has been in a position of serving any of the people of Lake County. Any individual who would attempt to mar the reputation of a man who has given unselfishly to his family and friends by neglecting to verify the facts, does not deserve to be in a public office.

Mr. Lachner, I am deeply hurt that you would misrepresent the facts this way. I have only the utmost respect for my parents as well as my step-parents. By the way, as a point of clarification, your press statement implied that my sister and I are minors. In fact, Mr. Lachner, I am 22 years old and my sister is 25. So you see, both of us are of legal age and would have been perfectly capable of answering any questions you had pertaining to our upbringing.

In my opinion, a politician should represent strong leadership within a community. By falsely accusing someone about something you know nothing about and never bothered to investigate, you have revealed volumes about yourself.

I feel sorry for you Mr. Lachner. Your actions are a pitiful example of shabby politics. I hope that your children will never have to endure the pain that you have caused with accusations. Thank goodness my dad is nothing like you.

Link a model citizen

Editor:

As a father of two of my own children and two step children, I am angry and upset by the Republican Party's claim that Democratic candidate Terry Link failed to pay child support. This blatant misrepresentation by Republican Chair John Schulien on behalf of candidate Tom Lachner should cause all voters to take a hard look at the negative personal attacks used by so many Republican candidates. Anyone who votes for candidates using these mean tactics must realize they are only rewarding the behavior we would all like to see stopped! Link deserves our support. He lives in the real world. He is proof that while families struggle, they can succeed when parents really care and support their children. We need this type of role model in Springfield!

Neal part of sham

Editor:

Tollway scandals are piling up. It's getting messier and messier. The Illinois State Police is developing charges against one of the Tollway Board members, who is also the Mayor of Bolingbrook, that he is involved in a scheme to inflate road-building costs to benefit him and his political allies.

The Tollway Authority, answerable to no one, is the worst-run agency ever devised. There seems to be no end to the inefficiency, mis-management, corruption, and outright criminality surrounding the Authority.

We can take no pride in Lake County that "one of our own," Bob Neal, is an appointed member on the Tollway Authority. Bob Neal, as well as all other Tollway Authority members, must take blame for the wrongdoing, extravagance, double-pension sweetheart deals, free tollway picnics and passes, land acquisition deals, and the other shenanigans involving tollway officials and friends.

Bob Neal is seeking the position of Lake County Recorder of Deeds. With his record on the Tollway Authority, he deserves nothing. He must think that voters will close their eyes to his record there, as he has closed his eyes to the misconduct at the Tollway Authority.

Mary Ellen Vandeventer is Bob Neal's opponent for Recorder of Deeds. She is so highly qualified for the position, and being a Democrat, I would have supported her anyway.

But, it bothers me when I hear and read Bob Neal praise the work of the Tollway Authority. The Illinois Tollway Authority is a scandal in itself and is in need of total reform. Bob Neal is in the forest and can't see the trees—or the roots of evil. He should be rooted out.

In the contest for Recorder of Deeds, Bob Neal should not replace a symbol of honor such as Frank Nustra, our retiring Recorder.

Rollaway Authority would be an elected board. I still think it's a good idea. We can't do anything about Bob Neil's appointed position on the Rollaway Authority on election day, but it is a day when we can judge his performance at that position and say "NO" to his attempt to become Recorder of Deeds.

Pond problem

Editor:

The present to express a well founded concern about flooding in the Stone Fence Farm Subdivision where Hobblebush Lane was under two feet of water during last May downpours.

About 50 acres of the development will drain into our storm sewers which are already frequently backing up now that all the topsoil of the Ranney farmland was hauled away. Once developed, about 30 acres of the Nike site will also drain through Stone Fence inadequate storm system.

There is no possible way the plus one acre pond can detain water and alleviate the flooding. I believe it is your responsibility and duty to fully review and assess the storm sewage plan in light of the nature of this high density development. Our storm sewer system was built under the assumption of a one house, two acre development on the Ranney Farm, with no back alleys.

Neal wants both jobs

Editor:

Is Bob Neal trying to make the jump from County Board to Recorder of Deeds to balloon his retirement? Or, is he looking to keep both the Recorder spot and his seat on the Tollway Board?

Answer? Both!

If the voters elect him next month, the combination of his salary from the Recorder's office and the cushy tollway plum, will total almost $100,000 a year.

This is the same Bob Neal who serves on the Tollway that masterminded a secret pension plan that doled out nearly $12,000,000 to 485 tollway employees, eight of whom received over $100,000 in payments. The wife of the former executive director was handed $73,719.

Fortunately, this secret and obscene pension plan was exposed and abolished in 1994 after four years in operation. All of this scheme was while Neal was serving on the Board of the Tollway Authority!

It seems obvious that Lake County voters today are more informed and will think very hard about the type of person whom we elect to higher office in Lake County. The equally obvious answer is a vote for Mary Ellen Vanderventer to the position of Recorder of Deeds.

Big pay and a big retirement pension for Bob Neal is not a goal of Lake County voters. Professionalism, competence, integrity, diligence, and commitment are the skills possessed by Vanderventer and a vote for her will achieve the goal of the voters of Lake County.

No teeth in try

Editor:

I shouldn't write this while I'm angry, but people need to know what happened. The Planning, Building and Zoning Committee of the Lake County Board approved final plat (the last stage before construction) of a 62 lot townhouse complex in unincorporated Grayslake. The complex features 24 of 62 lots under water during high water levels, adjacent (no buffer zone) to a high-quality wetland. The project will add more storm water runoff into a sensitive area; virtually assuring more flooding at nearby Woodland Meadows and Wildwood subdivisions. Part of the plan involves extending Almond Road south, taking 200 trees (including large oaks) and disrupting beautiful rolling countryside.

The committee, perhaps surprised at the size and intensity of public opposition, offered a "compromise" engineered by Pam Newton, (R - Vernon Hills). She elicited empty promises from the developer to "try" to build a buffer zone at the edge of the ADID wetlands, and to "try" to find more locations for storm water detention on site. Since that additional storm water detention will have to come from recreational areas of the complex, the developer will then "try" to negotiate a settlement with Warren Township. The committee then issued the final plat approval without having the developer show how he will fulfill those promises. The promises themselves were inadequate to the problems, and the lack of enforcement ludicrous. None of the attendees was fooled by the charade.

No one from the public was allowed to speak. No committee member asked questions of representatives from Storm Water Management. At least Bob Buhai (D-Highland Park) asked to see the revised plans and Larry Leafblad admirably voted no.

Despite Bob Depke's and Dick Raftis' defeat in the March primaries, they are still able to control events in these last days of their incumbency. Why the other committee members let themselves be led into approving such a disastrous plan is a mystery.

Don't miss a step

Editor:

As mayor of a village located both in McHenry and Lake Counties it has been challenging over the years to find the right combination of people in county government from both sides of the county line to help out when needed.

On the Lake County side, Bob Neal is definitely an office holder who an elected official can call upon for assistance, opinions and honest answers. Those answers not always being the ones you want to hear but Bob is up front with anyone who approaches him.

Bob and I share the same business background, both being owners of small business enterprises. We know what it takes to make a business grow to feed your family and educate your kids, while at the same time serving the public. Nothing can prepare you for public office more than that.

Therefore, I enthusiastically encourage you to vote for Bob Neal for Recorder of Deeds. His qualifications, his abilities and his desire to run the Recorder of Deeds office should leave no one with any questions on who could best take over the job without missing a step.

Grant Woods celebrates preserve expansion

It's not often that a 230 acre addition is bestowed on the Forest Preserve. Everyone is invited to join in the celebration the Grant Woods Forest Preserves new addition near Lake Villa.

As a result of the addition the 974 acre Grant Woods preserve is now the third largest preserve in the Lake County system. It includes six miles of recreational trails and 4.5 miles of snowmobile trails.

The celebration will kick off Oct. 20 beginning at 2 p.m. and ending at 4 p.m. The events will start with a flag raising ceremony conducted by a Lake Villa Girl Scout troop followed by a ribbon cutting ceremony.

One volunteer's perspective comes from John DeWolf. The senior began with RSVP in 1992, and since then he has been giving five days a week, five hours each day to help others.

DeWolf works as a pharmacy technician filling orders and delivering materials for patients at Condell Hospital in Libertyville.

The senior doesn't stop there. His other volunteer job is located at the Countryside Association for the handicapped in Palatine.

"I do volunteer work for three primary reasons," said DeWolf. "First, I wish to continue to be a useful person in our society. Second, since I am not a hobbyist or a 'do it yourself' person, I would

Sayers

the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL. Through the determination of Buddy Young and owner George Halas, the sensation from Kansas started his career and ended it with the Bears.

"Young sold me on the NFL and the Bears. He taught me the importance of having a "never say die attitude. He was 5-foot, 4 inches and everyone told him he was too small, yet he became an All-American, was the hero in the Rose Bowl for Illinois and played with Baltimore. He dared me to be the best," Sayers said.

"Young players think they will play forever. But the day comes when the cheering stops and the paycheck stops and you have to think about life after football. The period of transition can be traumatic. I had my fears - football was my life. I would not trade those Sunday afternoons for anything. It is such a different game now. I prepare to quit from the first day. I played when you had to have an off-season job and at age 27 I was looking for a job. The most important things are to get a diploma in high school and to get a college degree. The average life expectancy of a pro athlete in the NFL is three and one-half years."

The Bears had their lean years during the Sayers' era, including a 1-13 season. That was the year Sayers' good friend, Brian Piccolo, was diagnosed with cancer, which he eventually claimed Piccolo's life. The film "Brian's Song" featured the on the field and off field relationship between one runner from Kansas and another from Wake Forest universities.

Other key influences on the life of the running back, athletic administrator at Southern Illinois University and backer of such causes as Boy Scouts and Better Boys Foundation were: Dr. Ted Fox, the Bears physician who assisted him in a knee injury recovery, linebacker Dick Butkus and Halas.

The preserves new trails will be on display as Forest Preserve Nature Guides give guided fall color walks.

Visitors won't be lacking in other activities. New Cut Road bluegrass band will perform and Dan Andre a face painter will be there.

A traditional fall activity - the making of the scarecrow will also be taking place. There will be materials provided or participants may bring their own. Free refreshments will also be provided.

The Grand Woods addition was funded by a 1993 voter approved referendum and an Illinois Department of Natural Resources Local Government Snowmobile Grant.

get bored very easily if I did not have something to keep me busy. And finally, I think it is important to have to use your mental faculties in order to remain intellectually active."

RSVP coordinates the work of many volunteers in Lake County and is a source where organizations needing volunteers can find people to fill the jobs. RSVP offers a "clearing house" for volunteers to allow them to find what positions are available.

Eighty-three-year-old volunteer Leona Wallis of Waukegan has been giving her time for 16 years since the start of RSVP.

"I was doing volunteer work for Catholic Charities," said Wallis. "With RSVP I work with the [Waukegan] Park District on programs, and I get mailings ready to be sent," she said.

Stricken by arthritis and osteoporosis, Wallis' help for others hasn't lessened any. "It gets you out among others," she said of the volunteer program. "You meet a lot of people that way."

Wallis believes senior citizens have a wealth of experiences which can benefit all mankind. "Now that I'm older, I see things in a different way," she said.

The oldest RSVP volunteer is 93-year-old Beatrice Brown, a neighbor of Wallis.

Brown said even before RSVP was around, she was volunteering at Victory Memorial Hospital. For a quarter of a century, Brown worked in various capacities including the mail room. "I just enjoy helping the girls there, and with the patients," she explained.

Not long after senior Robert Crawford of Zion played his guitar and sang to the crowd, he was presented a plaque as Volunteer of the Year by the RSVP.

The recipient of the revered honor said for a number of years he has been giving his time and talent as an entertainer at various hospitals.

Crawford, also known as "Jolly Bob," volunteered for 10 years with the Lake County Red Cross as a first aid instructor. He worked with North Chicago firefighter Bob Sandor, developing the first Red Cross first aid program for the blind. This program went nationwide.

A number of notables made an appearance at the event, including Mary Ellen Vanderveer, Democratic candidate for Lake County recorder of deeds and her opponent Republican Bob Neal. William Snodgrass, legislative aide for Robert W. Churchill, state representative (R-62) was also present; as well as Corinne G. Wood, Republican candidate for state representative of the 59th district. County board member Debra Halas was also at the luncheon.

Neal: Tollway necessary to help area traffic flow

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

When the first bonds were issued by the Illinois State Toll Authority, it was another two years before tollways were built.

Robert Neal, a member of the toll authority board, would like to see a similar turnaround for planned lane improvements at the Deerfield toll plaza and others.

"There will be 11 lanes added with two I-Pass lanes," Neal said.

Neal said the I-Pass lanes are one of his pet projects. The lanes allow people with pre approved cards to go through the lanes without paying.

"This will modernize the toll booths. Now the 24-hour average is 10 minutes through the toll booths," Neal said.

There are now 23,000 I-Passes in use in Illinois.

Further improvements are also planned for the Lake Cook entrance to the tollway. The Lake County Board has approved the overpass work agreement at Duffy Lane.

"That project is one year behind schedule. The businesses want an access point, but no one can agree as to where," Neal said.

Neal, of Wadsworth, has been on the impartial governor-appointed toll board since 1988.

He is also president of the Illinois Prairie Trails, the Des Plaines Wetlands Restoration project as well as a Wadsworth firm, Able Electronics.

During a presentation before Gurnee Rotary Club members, Neal addressed the need for a toll authority while other states do not have one.

"If it was not for the tollway authority, everybody would be paying more through taxes. A user fee is the right way," Neal said. "Other states, such as Wisconsin, do not have the massive volume of traffic that the Chicago area generates. The tolls also pay the entire costs—from paying the state troopers' training and equipment," Neal said.

Neal termed the extension of Route 53 through central Lake County as "inevitable. The anti-highway groups are trying to delay it and costs are going up. It will be built, but the delays are frustrating," Neal said.

Ace Hardware stores recognized as premier hardline dealers

The Ace Hardware stores in Round Lake, Libertyville, Gurnee, Round Lake Beach, Mundelein and Lakehurst have been presented engraved plaques recognizing them as premier hardlines dealers in their market areas, and saluting their commitment to customers. To receive the plaques they had to meet 20 high performance retail standards, including excellent customer service, merchandise assortment, trained store personnel, convenient hours and participation in the Ace retail program.

Presented by Ace Hardware Corp., the cooperative owned collectively by Rich Laskowski, along with some 5,000 other Ace dealers, the plaques honor the stores for consistent excellence in practicing high retail standards. It also attests to their commitment to a process which the company calls Ace 2000, whose goal is to have Ace dealers become the best independent hardware, home center, lumber, and building material retailers in the hardware and home improvement industry by the year 2000.

Ace store owner Laskowski said: "We've really worked hard to provide legendary customer service ever since 1962. Our employees are really the ones responsible for this award. They are knowledgeable and their goal is to satisfy the needs of our customers, with the attitude "There's no hardware or do it yourself problem we can't solve."

"In addition, we thank all of our loyal customers who have made Ace their place over the years, plus the new customers who appreciate the service, selection and convenience which we offer. We pledge to continue the service which earned us this award."

Founded in the early 1920s, Ace Hardware Corp. is a dealer-owned cooperative with its headquarters in Oak Brook. It has 14 retail support centers strategically located across the United States, plus two additional centers in Canada. Wholesale sales for the company in 1995 were 2.4 billion, an increase of $110 million from the previous year. Ace has more than 5,000 stores in all 50 states and in 55 countries and territories.

A grand re-opening celebration will be held the week of Oct. 30 at the Ace Hardware store at Rollins and Rte. 83 in Round Lake Beach. This celebration marks the completion of a major remodeling project in which the entire store has been updated from wall to wall, with a great new store layout and the addition of many new items. The new design is sure to make your shopping trip enjoyable.

On Saturday, Nov. 2, there will be power tool demonstration by Skil and DeWalt. In addition, there will be free popcorn, chili, and balloons for the kids. Many door prizes will be given away in honor of the celebration, including a snowblower, and gift certificates. Special savings are available in every department.

Toy Fair '96 is the place to be to preview in the many new toys available for the upcoming holiday season. This year it will be held at two locations on the same day, Saturday, Nov. 9 at both the Round Lake Ace Hardware Home Center on Rte. 134 and at the Ace Hardware in Libertyville on Rte. 137. Both locations will feature many of the same events which include clowns, free layaway, prizes and characters like Esmerelda and Hunchback. Stop by and see all the changes Ace has made!

Baird & Warner retains title as top broker

Baird & Warner held its rank as the top independent real estate company in Illinois and Top 20 nationally in 1995, reported REAL Trends magazine, an industry publication.

Perennially the Chicago area's leading residential real estate company, Baird & Warner advanced a notch to No. 16 among the 350 elite brokers tracked by the publication nationally.

Baird & Warner's ranking is based on a sales volume of $2 billion in 1995.

This is the eighth consecutive year that Baird & Warner has achieved the Top 20 ranking and the company is well on its way to hitting $2 billion in sales for the fifth year in a row.

In a separate ranking for transactions, Baird & Warner was ranked 26th in the country and No. 1 in Illinois, with 9,823 closed "sides." "Sides" represent both listing and selling closed transactions by the company.

'Up against the Wal-Marts' author gives tips to owners

"Build it and they will come," rarely works as words of advice on how to become a successful small business owner, said nationally known business author Don Taylor in a seminar for Lake County small business leaders.

Taylor, who addressed an audience of more than 130 business owners at the College of Lake County, said independent retailers must learn how to motivate to meet the new breed of competition and to survive.

"You must be a 'ready, aim, fire' person not a 'ready, aim, aim, aim,'" said Taylor. "Success in business is the relentless pursuit of doing simple things well."

In his book, "Up Against the Wal-Marts," Taylor gives case histories of 100 small businesses that are thriving in their marketplace despite the competition of large mega-retailers such as Wal-Mart, Home Depot, Kmart and other well-known national chains.

"We have to give them (consumers) what they want; it's not just lower prices, if it was everyone would be selling bologna and cheese pizzas," Taylor said. "It's not just price, its value."

Taylor says all business owners need to make constant changes and monitor their business to stay competitive.

With so called "big box merchants" earning $150 billion-plus per year and category killers (such as Toys R Us, PetsMart, Barnes & Noble and Home Depot) earning $300-500 billion per year, the small business owner needs to constantly be aware of the competition.

"But there are independent stores everywhere that are going up against this competition and winning," said Taylor. "They focus on satisfying the customer."

Taylor recommended several strategies for improving a small business including: increased training for workers, better marketing, changing value perception, adjusting hours to meet the needs of customers, knowing your target customer, promotion of the store, eliminating waste and increased advertising.

He encourages businesses to undergo "self analysis" and to develop monthly tracking reports on the cost of products sold to make monthly adjustments in inventory and pricing as opposed to yearly adjustments.

He emphasized that most customers who never return to a store also never let a business owner know why.

"Ninety six percent of unhappy customers never let anyone know why they left the store," said Taylor.

Taylor gave several key points as hallmarks to operating a good business including:

- product knowledge
- personal contact

Lynnea Hansen, owner of the Mundelein Frame House, said Taylor's emphasis on customer service was right on the mark, and that was part of the presentation of the store.

"You can be successful," she said, "if you and your clientele are the best you can be."

Taylor is the author of the syndicated column, "Minding Your Own Business" which appears weekly in Lakeland Newspapers. He is director of the small business development center at Texas A&M University and a former independent retailer. He resides in Texas.

His trip to Lake County was sponsored by Lakeland Newspapers.

- "can do" attitude
- convenient hours
- quick service
- quality products

"Attitude is critical," Taylor said. "Success is 10 percent what happens and 90 percent what you do about it."

He also reminded business owners that the biggest reason for losing customers is also the one aspect over which they have 100 percent control—service.

"Seventy percent of customers leave a store without returning because of the way they were treated," said Taylor. "It is the one thing you can control 100 percent."

Several business owners said they felt the seminar offered easy to implement solutions to their business problems.

"It was great," said Anthony Bean, of ARB Associations. "He provided very valuable information."

Zeke Salk of Custom Gun in McHenry said "it was well worth the time spent."

"I'm ready to take the information the rest of the way," Salk said.

Throw me one more roll, please

I like to eat. It's an old family tradition. Anytime our family gets together, you can count on one thing: There will be more food than you can eat.

I was pleasantly surprised a few weeks ago to learn that a Lambert's Cafe is now open near Springfield, Mo. The rumor mill told me they serve generous portions at reasonable prices. That's music to this old fat boy's ears.

Since we were on vacation and had worked up an appetite touring the Bass Pro Shop in Springfield, we headed for Lambert's. We weren't disappointed.

In fact, the whole experience was so positive that I knew as we walked out the door that I'd write this column. However, I didn't start on it right away. I needed a nap first.

Some business lessons

Some of the best business lessons are right in front of us every day. I learned a lot in the two-hour visit to Lambert's Cafe. You can indeed see a lot just by looking around.

The first thing I noticed was the location. The restaurant is easy to find. It is located next to U.S. Highway 65 between Springfield and Branson, Mo. This location brings lots of traffic and tourists. The parking lot is huge and flat and access to the building is easy with no steps.

The next element we noticed was the speed of the service. It was mid afternoon when we arrived, but there was still a crowd. We were seated quickly and served immediately. Our food arrived in no more than other solid operations? In two words: market positioning.

Lambert's does a good job with all elements of the marketing mix. Their prices equate to value. Their products are of top quality. Their promotion is adequate, but not extravagant. The place (location) is good and their people are fast, friendly and fun.

It is the market positioning that separates them from all other restaurants I've seen. My definition of positioning is: The benefit or advantage you offer your customers that no one else can. Your position is what makes you unique and memorable.

Lambert's market position is fun and showmanship. While we were eating our late lunch, I watched more than a hundred folks at nearby tables. All were having a great time. Even sleepy little children got bright-eyed and excited as the hot rolls flew across the room.

The conversations at tables were animated. Folks were smiling and laughing and alert to see what would happen next. It was an experience worth savoring. More importantly, you can bet that everyone there will tell someone else. I just told more than a million. Now that you know, catch and eat a roll for me.

Editor's note: Don Taylor is the co-author of "Up Against the Wal-Mart." Questions can be sent to "Minding Your Own Business," P.O. Box 67, Amarillo, TX 79105.

seven or eight minutes. Hardly enough time to enjoy the rolls we caught.

The "threwed rolls" are the trademark of Lambert's. They are piping hot, five-inch buns, and the only way you can get one is to catch it! Last year, Lambert's threw 2,246,400 rolls (not all were caught).

The third business lesson was about quality. Every item the smiling wait staff served to us was of highest quality. The Reader's Digest version: The food was great.

We found good food and plenty of it, fast, friendly service, reasonable prices and a good location. These are the basic elements of running a profitable restaurant business.

However, this description would also fit several national chain operations like Cracker Barrel, The Black Eyed Pea and Chili's.

What is it that sets Lambert's location apart from all others? Why is this cafe the subject of this column instead of one of the Business survey to be held

LAKE COUNTY—Lake County's Economic Development Commission (EDC) and County Board want to hear directly from businesses and are requesting participation in an important survey. Part of the EDC's overall strategic planning process, the survey will gauge the needs of businesses throughout the county, and will assist in Lake County's long-range plans. Once these needs are identified, the EDC and County Board will determine what economic development strategies, services and programs should be implemented. Six-thousand surveys will be mailed directly to individuals at Lake County businesses. Recipients need not specify company affiliation on the 34-question survey that contains demographic information, a needs assessment section, and a portion devoted to competition. County staff will analyze the results by mid-December. For more information, contact David Young at 625-7166.

Santi boasts new showroom

WILDWOOD—Santi Construction's new office boasts a showroom for customers to see first hand some of the many home repair and remodeling jobs Santi performs. Santi's new office, located at 33273 N. Hwy. 45 in Wildwood, is open for business. The showroom contains a small-scale kitchen and sitting area. Customers can see examples of siding, windows, cabinets, sinks, counter tops, flooring, lighting, and trim. In front of the office you can find a treated deck that displays different plank and railing styles. Santi Construction has been serving Lake County for over 11 years. Though Santi specializes in small jobs, they also perform larger projects. Their services range from siding and drywall repairs to building decks, screen porches, room additions and fireplace installation.

NATURE'S BOUNTY

Safety First On Halloween

1. Instead of trick-or-treating, ask your parents to plan a Halloween party for neighborhood children and friends.

2. If you do go trick-or-treating, go only to houses of people you or your parents know.

3. Don't eat any treats until you return home and have them carefully inspected.

4. Young children should always be accompanied by a parent or older sibling.
5. Observe all traffic rules. Only cross streets at intersections, and remember to look both ways before stepping off the curb.
6. Make sure drivers can see you by wearing a light-colored costume or by putting reflective tape or stickers on darker colors.
7. Don't limit your vision with a mask. Face paint is better, or a close fitting half-mask with large eye openings.

Family Fun & Fresh Air

Run, Climb & Enjoy.

Safer than Public Parks

8. Try on your costume in advance to make sure you can move comfortably. Check to see if any part could drag on the ground.

9. There is no such thing as a harmless prank. Even though you may say "trick-or-treat," never play Halloween tricks.

10. Never trick-or-treat alone. There is safety in numbers, so take along several friends or family members.

11. Never ride your bike when you trick-or-treat. You may easily lose your balance or strike an object in the dark.
